41 Science Exhibits Made Here

Fifteen boys and girls in Washington C. H. and Fayette County high schools today could look forward to entering their exhibits in the district Science Awards Competition at Lemon-Monroe High School in Butler County April 13 to compete for $4,800 in college scholarships and $315 in cash awards.

These are the students who placed first, second and third in the county competition Saturday in the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium.

In addition to the right to compete in the district (Fayette, Clinton, Butler and Warren counties), they received cash awards for their exhibits here.

The competition is in two divisions: junior high school (Seventh, eighth and ninth grades) and senior high school (sophomore, junior and senior classes).

WINNERS in the junior division with general science exhibits, their age, grade, title of exhibit, school, teacher, and award, were:

First — Kay Heistand, 14, and Ann Craig, 14, freshmen, "Wonderful lens in the human eye," Bloomington, Mrs. G. H. Biddle, $10;

Larry Huff, 13, eighth grade, "Building your own weather station," Bloomington, Mrs. Biddle, $2.50.

There were 21 entries in the junior division.

THEIR WERE four categories in the senior division: biology, 18 exhibits; physics, three exhibits; chemistry, three exhibits, and engineering, four exhibits.

Winners in the biology category were: Bobby Edgington, 15, and Larry Bennett, 15, sophomore, "Development of embryo chicks," Washington C. H., Charles Glover, $20; Ronnie McCoy, 15, sophomore, "Plant cell diffusion," Washington C. H., Glover, $10.

Terror Wave Costs Lives Of 4 Persons

Couple Is Run Over By Man Later Killed In Police Gun Battle

MARION (AP)—A young father's bitter resentment against his child's grandparents erupted Saturday night in a wave of terror that cost four lives.

Police said Manfred Draper, 27, ran down with his auto and killed the grandparents, Albert Pollock, 41, and Pollock's wife, Sylvia, 42. Shortly after, Draper and State Patrolman Robert E. Karmirski, 35, were killed in a gun battle.

Draper's fury against the Pollocks resulted from his belief that they were "poisoning the mind" of his daughter, Martha Elizabeth, 6, against him, police said.

The child's mother, Marilyn Huffman, 23, daughter of Mrs. Pollock, said she was never married to Draper but had lived with him before Martha was born. She said Draper had threatened her because he believed she and the Pollocks were keeping him from seeing the little girl.

Police said Draper ran the Pollocks down as they walked through an alley late Saturday night on their way home from Marion's downtown section.

THEY SAID after the couple fell, Draper drove his car around a block, re-entered the alley and ran over Pollock again.

He sped off but his car had a blowout. After an unsuccessful attempt to commandeer a car at gunpoint, he stole another auto and roared off to town.

Police lost Draper's trail but picked it up again in Bucyrus, 18 miles north of here, and chased him another 11 miles to Gallion.

He tried to swerve around the State Highway Patrol's roadblock but crashed into a yard. Officers said Draper then lay face down on the ground pretending to be unconscious.

But when Patrolman Karmirski, who lived in Bucyrus, approached him, Draper whipped out his pistol and fatally shot him. Other officers pumped five bullets into Draper, the patrol said.

In the gunfire, State Patrolman Murray Youtz, 25, Bucyrus, was wounded in the chest and left arm. His condition at a Gallion hospital was reported to be fair.

Mrs. Dora Harris, Mrs. Pollock's mother who was with the Pollocks in the Marion alley, suffered shock and bruises but was released after treatment.

After Draper ran down the Pollocks and one of his tires blew out, he traveled a block here and tried at gunpoint to commandeer a car driven by William Stambaugh, police said. Stambaugh and his wife had been trailing Draper trying to get his license number.

When Stambaugh closed the window in Draper's face and drove off, the gunman stole a car owned by Raymond McCoy from a nearby service station.

Quads in Texas Get Deed to Home

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—The Budget quadruplets today were official owners of their home and the adjoining property, a gift from their fellow citizens.

The quads—Joan, Joyce, Jeanette and Geraldine—Sunday received a deed to the property. The deed has been held in trust under an agreement with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Ellis Budgett, until they reached 18. They were born Feb. 1, 1939.

The home was built in 1941 by community contributions.

Heart Attack Kills Gene Lockhart, 66

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Gene Lockhart, a versatile performer who was seen or heard in a half dozen entertainment mediums during his 60-year career, died of a heart seizure Sunday.

The pudgy-faced actor, director, author and composer was perhaps best known for his character roles in the movies. He appeared in more than 300 films.

Lockhart, 66, had been hospitalized here only Saturday night.

U. S. Farmers Shift Sights To Used Tractors, Equipment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today farmers are buying more used tractors and other farm equipment this spring in an effort to offset rising costs of new machines.

The agency said new farm tractor prices are averaging 6 per cent higher than a year earlier. This increase reflects both price increases in the individual units and the purchase of additional accessories and extras.

Prices of other new machinery was said to be up 5 per cent from a year ago. Sharpest increases were reported for equipment used for spring tillage and seeding operations, such as drills, planters and manure spreaders.

Farm household expenses have gone up too. The department said farm clothing prices are nearly 3 per cent higher than a year ago. Retail prices paid for the principal foods bought by farmers were said to be averaging about 4 per cent higher.

Dulles Biographer Says Middle East Is 4th Brink-of-War Crisis for U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles' biographer says his sudden withdrawal of the Aswan Dam aid offer to Egypt last July was a "Cold War gambit" comparable with three other "brinks of war".

The new book, based partly on personal interviews with Dulles, was written by John Beal, Time magazine's diplomatic correspondent in Washington.

Beal wrote that the fourth "brink of war" move in President Eisenhower's regime was in the Middle East. The first three were Korea, Formosa and Indochina.

Beal says the Middle East "brink" happened after Russia threatened to send "volunteers" to Egypt to fight British and French troops moving into the Suez Canal area last November.

"Eisenhower's reaction was to follow the Dulles doctrine that stopping an enemy at 'the brink' was the best way of avoiding war," he wrote.

Third Yank's Body Is Found By Searchers

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Sources close to the Iranian government said today Prime Minister Hussein Ala has told associates he will resign as result of the desert massacre of three Americans.

These informants said the prime minister's resignation will be announced Wednesday, after departure of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, now in Tehran as a government guest, so as "to prevent embarrassment" to Adenauer.

The sources said Dr. Meneucheh Eghbal, vigorous president of Tehran University, court minister and associate of the Shah will be proposed as new premier.

The change reportedly was to give the government a stronger hand in dealing with banditry and tribal defiance of the government.

Earlier, the United States reported that its Point Four Assistance program in southeast Iran has been suspended until the killers are caught.

The American victims of the bandits were Mrs. Anita Carroll and her husband, Kevin, a U. S. Point Four program official; Brewster Wilson, specialist for the Near East Foundation.

MRS. CARROLL'S body was found Sunday two miles from the spot where her husband, Wilson, and two Iranians were slain in ambush a week ago Sunday.

Clark S. Gregory, director of the Point Four program in Iran, announced that aid had been suspended because he was not wholly satisfied with measures taken so far to wipe out the desert bandits responsible for the killings. Gregory made the announcement after an on-the-spot investigation.

Iranian troops and police on foot still pursued the ambush killers over the mountain rocks of the desolate, isolated section of southern Baluchistan.

Meanwhile, the 15-year-old American woman's body was flown here. Street crowds watched silently as a flower-banked ambulance carried the remains from the airport to a mortuary.

The U. S. aid official's wife was found Sunday two miles from the desert spot where her husband Kevin and his party were slain. She had been shot. A U. S. Embassy official said Iranian police were led to the body by local tribesmen.

The discovery was made only a few hours after the Interior Ministry reported receiving a message from the notorious bandit chief Dadshah saying Mrs. Carroll was "quiet safe and unhurt" and offering to release her if he would be allowed to go free. The government sent back an "assurance of amnesty."

POLICE REPORTS from the area said Dadshah probably would be captured soon. They said four of his eight-man band had deserted and that the other three were fleeing with him on foot. His pursuers were also on foot. The country was described as too rough even for camels or horses.

Police were so close to the fugitives that they had engaged them in a gun fight Saturday.

Until her body was found, Iranian authorities believed Mrs. Carroll had been kidnapped for sale in slave markets.

Cincinnati Kills 'Unfaithful' Wife

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police plan to file charges today against Robert Lee Graham, 31, who admitted he killed his wife because she was "running around with other men."

Mrs. Evelyn Graham, 27, mother of six children, was shot.

Investigators said Graham waited at home with a gun after his wife left him in a cafe late Saturday night.

Graham struck his wife, who fell on a couch. Graham put the revolver to her head and fired six times.

The six children, ranging in age up to nine years, slept through the shooting. They were turned over to grandparents.

New Labor Laws Sought by Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate investigation of finagling by Teamsters Union officials is spurring demands that Congress act to safeguard the rights of the laboring man.

Proposals ranged from greater protection of "democratic processes" in unions to closer policing of union funds.

There was some talk that the "senate probe might build a fire under a drive for enactment of more state "right-to-work" laws, which outlaw the union shop. Eighteen states already have them. The possibility was raised too of a federal "right-to-work" law.

Debate arose over whether the disclosures would set back the labor movement. Senators Ives (R-NY) and Kefauver (D-Tenn) said they feared this would happen. Secretary of Labor Mitchell disputed this view.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, said Sunday "I wouldn't, as a result of these hearings, simply undertake to pass laws of reprisal."

THE COMMITTEE, in recess for a few weeks, has undertaken a search for evidence of racketeering in both labor and management. So far, it has concentrated on activities of certain leaders of the giant Teamsters Union.

It has heard testimony that union funds were used to finance real estate investments and to pay for racing stables, lavish homes and other personal outlays of these officials.

McClellan said the hearings so far "clearly" indicate to him that "there should be federal legislation to insure the democratic processes in unions" and to insure "the security of their funds so they cannot be dissipated or misappropriated or stolen or diverted to any other purpose than union purposes."

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) said legislation is needed to put some teeth in Taft-Hartley law provisions dealing with union reports of their finances.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) said he favors public disclosure of union welfare and pension funds "to clean up this mess."

Secretary Mitchell said an administration bill to allow publication of union financial reports will be pressed again this year.

Both Mitchell and Ives indicated concern that the racketeers probe disclosures might give impetus to state "right-to-work" laws. Such laws bar the union shop, under which a worker must join a union within a certain time after he goes on the job.

Mitchell restated his opposition to such laws, saying he believes employers and unions should have the right to bargain for some form of "union security."

Like Father Flanagan, Juvenile Court Judge Robert L. Brubaker believes that no child is born bad. But that doesn't blind him to the fact that a lot of kids get plenty bad—fast—if things don't go right.

What can be done about it? Judge Brubaker extends a warning about the answer to this question: It won't be easy.

There's no quick answer, and there's no answer that doesn't mean money and work. But if enough people are sufficiently aroused—and many were aroused by 13 juvenile arrests here last week—an answer can be found.

THE FIRST PART of it is something like this: Get better parents. "In 90 per cent of the cases," the judge said, "The parents are at fault."

There are several ways of improving parents, he declared. Here are a few: —Parents must love and understand, and must be respected by their children. If they don't see eye to eye with the youngsters, nothing else helps.

—Parents must be boss. This doesn't mean tyranny. It does mean authority. Excessive leniency is no help. It's NOT easier to trust than to care.

—Parents must set a good example for their young. Appropriate parental education would help teach all of these, the judge believes. He is attempting now to arrange a lecture program that would bring trained personnel (psychologists, etc.) to talk on child raising.

IF SUCH a program were arranged, he'd like to make a special effort to get parents of delinquents to attend. He feels they need it most.

All this is said mindful of the fact that "no parent intends to be neglectful," Judge Brubaker points out. Some just aren't doing as well as they'd like to. Others are missing the point.

Beyond the parent, delinquency ought to be curbed at the second level, too: the schools. Most delinquents, the judge pointed out, are young people out of (Please Turn to Page Twelve)

Israel Ready To Discuss Arab Problem

JERUSALEM (AP)—A Foreign Ministry spokesman today said Israel is always ready to discuss compensation payments for Arab refugees from the Palestine war but there is "no connection whatsoever" between the refugees and the Suez Canal.

The spokesman was commenting on reports from Cairo that Egyptian President Nasser had told visiting American newsmen Egypt would permit Israel to use the canal and the Gulf of Aqaba only if the refugees "are given back their rights and land."

Israel "will implement her right to free passage for her ships through the Suez Canal at a suitable occasion," the spokesman said. A ministry official said Sunday any Arab move to impede Israel's shipping in the canal or the Gulf of Aqaba would be considered an "act of war."

That official said of Nasser's reported condition: "We are not interested in the pretext Nasser puts out from time to time to justify his determination to interfere with the freedom of navigation of Israeli ships," a ministry official said.

Israel has announced she will send ships flying the Israeli flag through the gulf as a test and will also test Egypt's ban on shipping in the canal. Foreign-flag ships chartered by Israel are already sailing unmolested through the gulf, which is still under protection of the U. N.

The Foreign Ministry also declared a reported suggestion for a security zone extending more than 2,000 feet on both sides of the Gaza Strip border would not be acceptable to Israel.

Court Commits Six Youths

2 More Juveniles Rounded Up Here

The grim total of young people arrested here last week rose to 13 Saturday as city police and the county sheriff's department both made progress in their intensive investigation of juvenile crime.

Two new arrests brought in a 16-year-old county youth for shoplifting and a 16-year-old county youth charged with grand larceny.

In other action, Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson revealed that 19-year-old Roy Penwell, 1119 N. North St., already in jail for breaking probation, has been implicated in several rural burglaries.

Meanwhile Juvenile Court Judge Robert L. Brubaker Monday announced the disposition of the first of the juvenile cases heard in his court: Industrial School for three, the Juvenile Diagnostic Center in Columbus for three more and probation for only one.

POLICE CHIEF D. Vaiden Long and Patrolman Herschel Taylor arrested the accused shoplifter Saturday when their investigation turned up a stolen radio at his home. Though they weren't looking for the radio there, a serial number check brought an admission from the youth that he had taken it Feb. 7 from Jean's Appliance Shop 142 E. Court St.

The other 16-year-old was charged with stealing a gun from the Central Gun and Indian Relic Club gun show March 23. The pistol, confiscated by Deputy Thompson, was the ninth stolen firearm retrieved from juveniles during the week.

Deputy Thompson also revealed that Penwell, originally charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, has been implicated in gun show thievery and in several recent burglaries. Deputy Thompson said he has linked Penwell to break-ins at Matson's Used Car Lot, N. North St., and the Lucas Town and Country Market, Route 22, west, for which two 16-year-olds were arrested Saturday.

Penwell is the alleged ringleader of the trio, Thompson said.

AS THE CITY-COUNTY dragnet continued its work, Deputy Thompson observed that strict enforcement of the 10:30 p. m. curfew for young people under 17 is continuing at full strength.

E. Court St., normally sprinkled with young people on week-end evenings, was practically deserted Sunday night. Similar reports were heard in several parts of the county.

Again, Thompson emphasized "we don't want to stop young people from having good clean fun. But we will stop loitering."

Judge Brubaker said he had committed three 16-year-old boys arrested last Monday to Boy's Industrial School for their alleged part

Federal Payroll Hits New High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) reported today the federal payroll hit an all-time peak in January of $1 billion a month.

Byrd, who heads the Senate House Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Expenditures, said regular civilian workers for the government drew $989,549,000 and payroll funds for foreign nationals employed by U. S. agencies abroad totaled $16,700,000.

"This total was reported despite a decrease in employment which occurred during the same month," Byrd said.

He said payrolls for the first seven months of fiscal year 1957, totaled $6.6 billion for a monthly average of $946 million.

Byrd has contended that one of the quickest ways to cut Eisenhower's $71.8 billion budget is to reduce the number of federal employees.

The senator said total civilian employment reached 2,390,507 in February, a 3,492 increase over January. He did not list the overall cost figure for February, a shorter month.

HE SAID the budget includes nearly $2 billion for spending on 41 new and expanded programs. He called it a "spending spree that will continue inflation and increase the cost of living."

The House has been actively cutting into appropriations bills with the aim of holding activities to the current levels and preventing increases proposed in the new budget.

House leaders are seeking to cut enough to permit a possible tax reduction effective the first of next year.

He said he still thinks Congress will cut $3 billion from Eisenhower's requests. He urged sharp cuts in foreign aid.

U. S. Farmers Shift Sights To Used Tractors, Equipment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today farmers are buying more used tractors and other farm equipment this spring in an effort to offset rising costs of new machines.

The agency said new farm tractor prices are averaging 6 per cent higher than a year earlier. This increase reflects both price increases in the individual units and the purchase of additional accessories and extras.

Prices of other new machinery was said to be up 5 per cent from a year ago. Sharpest increases were reported for equipment used for spring tillage and seeding operations, such as drills, planters and manure spreaders.

Farm household expenses have gone up too. The department said farm clothing prices are nearly 3 per cent higher than a year ago. Retail prices paid for the principal foods bought by farmers were said to be averaging about 4 per cent higher.

Federal payments under the conservation reserve would total $42,318,000. The deadline for signing retirement agreements for 1957 with the Agriculture Department is April 15.

With sign-up for the acreage reserve now being completed, it now appears that the department may save upwards of $450 million of the $1.2 billion authorized for the soil bank plan this year, because of failure of some farmers to participate.

What Can Fayette County Do about Juvenile Delinquency?

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two articles setting forth some of the opinions of Juvenile Court Judge Robert L. Brubaker and others on juvenile delinquency, which looms large in the public eye here now. Today's article deals with some of the possible solutions. Saturday's dealt with the nature and causes of the problem.

Like Father Flanagan, Juvenile Court Judge Robert L. Brubaker believes that no child is born bad. But that doesn't blind him to the fact that a lot of kids get plenty bad—fast—if things don't go right.

What can be done about it? Judge Brubaker extends a warning about the answer to this question: it won't be easy.

There's no quick answer, and there's no answer that doesn't mean money and work. But if enough people are sufficiently aroused—and many were aroused by 13 juvenile arrests here last week—an answer can be found.

THE FIRST PART of it is something like this: Get better parents. "In 90 per cent of the cases," the judge said, "The parents are at fault."

There are several ways of improving parents, he declared. Here are a few:

—Parents must love and understand, and must be respected by, their children. If they don't see eye to eye with the youngsters, nothing else helps.

—Parents must be boss. This doesn't mean tyranny. It does mean authority. Excessive leniency is no help. It's NOT easier to trust than to care.

—Parents must set a good example for their young.

Appropriate parental education would help teach all of these, the judge believes. He is attempting to now to arrange a lecture program that would bring trained personnel (psychologists, etc.) to talk on child raising.

IF SUCH a program were arranged, he'd like to make a special effort to get parents of delinquents to attend. He feels they need it most.

All this is said mindful of the fact that "no parent intends to be neglectful," Judge Brubaker points out. Some just aren't doing as well as they'd like to. Others are missing the point.

Beyond the parent, delinquency ought to be curbed at the second level, too: the schools. Most delinquents, the judge pointed out, are young people out of

Court Here Monday

One man was committed to the Cincinnati Workhouse and two others paid old fines Monday morning, as a result of three bench warrants issued by Municipal Court Judge Max G. Dice.

Virgil Thompson, 51, of near Leesburg, was sentenced to the workhouse for failing to pay $198 still due on a $200 fine after two years. Thompson was originally charged with driving while intoxicated.

Paying fines for traffic offenses were Howard Hammons, 24, of London, and Howard McKinney, 51, of Wilmington. Hammons paid $25 for speeding while McKinney paid $10 for running a red light. Both charges were two years old.

IN OTHER ACTION. Judge Dice found Frederick Miller, 38, of Ashland, Ky., guilty of driving while intoxicated, and sentenced him to pay a $200 fine and to spend three days in jail. Miller pleaded not guilty. He was also fined $5 for illegal parking.

Charles E. Bellar, 24, of 1139 E. Paint was found guilty of reckless operation and fined $50 and costs. Suspended on condition of restitution for damage caused was $40 of the fine. Bellar pleaded not guilty. Bellar also was found not guilty of leaving the scene of an accident.

Pleading guilty to same charge, Hershel Maxie, 18, of Prairie Rd., was fined $5 and costs. His driving rights were suspended for 10 days.

Charged with leaving the scene of an accident, Donald Lee Kuhn, 24, of Jasper Rd., paid a $10 fine and costs. He pleaded guilty.

Given suspended $5 fines for running stop signs were Chester Scott, 51, of 1106 Yeoman St., and James H. Hurd, 66, of 1227 Willard St. Both pleaded guilty.

Forfeiting bond were Charles Doughty, 64, who forfeited $20 for speeding; William Matchnee, 38, of Columbus, who forfeited $20 for reckless operation; and George Salyer, 18, of 122 W. Elm St., who forfeited $20 for failing to stop at a stop sign.

U. N. Said Offering Loan to Egyptians

CAIRO, Egypt—John J. McCloy, representing the United Nations in financial aspects of Suez Canal clearance work, met President Nasser today to explore a possible loan to Egypt for new canal equipment.

Unconfirmed reports said Egypt wants at least $10 million to replace tugs, dredgers and navigational aids lost in last November's fighting.

While here McCloy also has discussed payment of costs for clearing the canal, now estimated at less than $20 million. U. N. sources said this probably will be paid by adding surcharge to canal tolls for a limited period.

News in Brief

Drug Injection Far Too Heavy

LONDON—A prosecution medical expert testified today, the heroin injection Dr. John Bodkin Adams gave a wealthy patient two days before she died was "35 times the normal maximum dose."

Dr. Arthur Douthwaite again firmly insisted the 58-year-old Adams gave drugs to Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell with "murderous intent."

Adams is accused of murdering the 81-year-old widow in November 1950 to gain a chest of silver and Rolls Royce car from her $400,000 estate. The trial is entering its third week.

Dr. Douthwaite is a leading specialist on narcotics.

The prosecution expert said nurses' records on Mrs. Morrell's case indicated Dr. Adams withheld drugs he had been using on the aged widow to incite her craving for them and then "re-introduced" injections that were fatal.

Dr. Douthwaite stood firm in insisting that he felt the drugs were administered by Dr. Adams with the intention of killing.

Under questioning by the judge, the expert said he would be "astonished" if another expert came to any different conclusion based on the records of the case.

FRANKFURT, GERMANY—The first German draftees to be called up since World War II reported for duty today. The 9,733 draftees will boost West Germany's new army to 90,000 men. The Defense Ministry does not expect to call any more draftees until a year from now.

BUDAPEST—Premier Janos Kadar, just back from Moscow, says the West is to blame for the presence of Soviet troops in Hungary. He intends for the Russian troops to stay "as long as necessary."

CAIRO, Egypt—The month long fast of Ramadan began today for 300 million Moslems around the world. According to the Prophet Mohammed Moslems cannot eat or drink in daylight hours during the lunar month which begins April 1 this year. Observance of Ramadan is one of the five pillars of Islam as listed in the Koran. The prophet declared Moslems should not eat when it is light enough to distinguish a black thread from a white one during Ramadan.

FONTAINEBLEAU, France—Lt. Gen. Hans Speidel of West Germany today officially became commander of NATO ground forces in Central Europe. ## Cov. O'Neill's 'Spending' Hit By Dem Chief

COLUMBUS—State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman believes a "new look of profligate spending" has replaced the "old tradition" of conservatism in the Ohio governor's office.

Coleman criticized what he estimated as a 100 per cent increase in Gov. C. William O'Neill's office salaries, a "fantastic expenditure" of $150,000 to remodel the new mansion, and pay increases up to 150 per cent for cabinet members.

"Through the tenures of many governors of both political parties," Coleman said, "the people of Ohio have come to regard the executive office of our state as repositories of those old, simple virtues through which our state has become great—a conservatism in expenditures, regard for the taxpayer and caution in the use of his money."

"Such super-popular governors as Vic Donahey, John Bricker and Frank Lausche were renowned for the care with which they eyed every expenditure of their office."

"That tradition has been tossed to the winds in a short space of three months by the state's new governor."

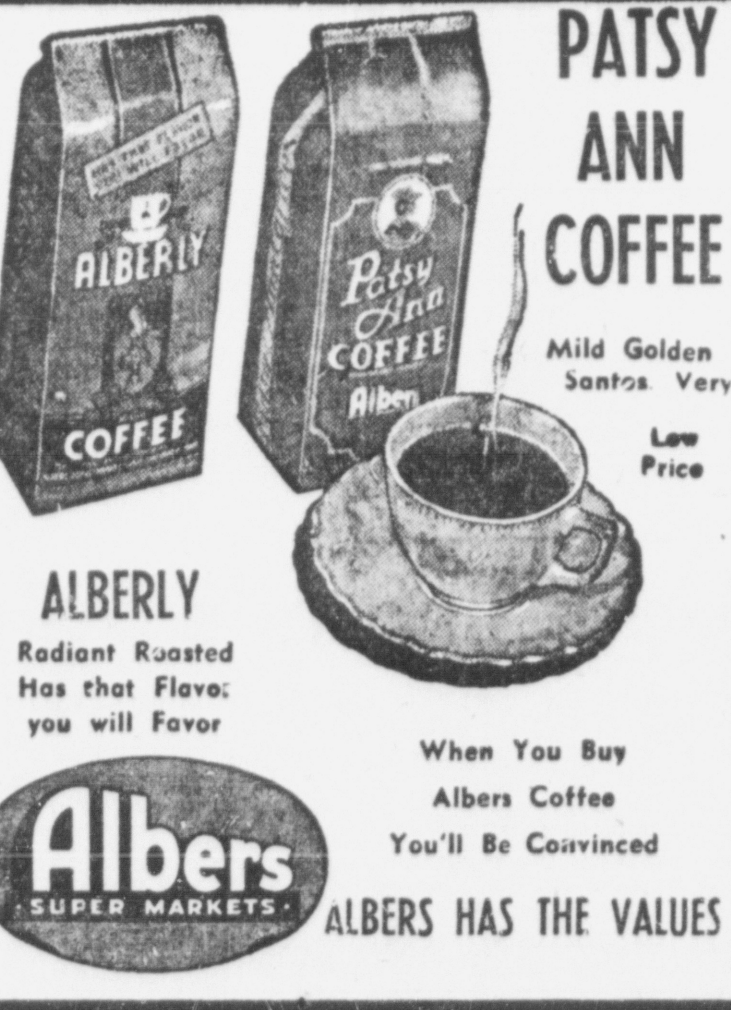

The sudden elevation from the office of attorney general to the governor's office may have been too much for O'Neill, Coleman said in his statement.

"He may not realize that the people see and the people remember," the Democratic chairman said. "It is only another year until the governor will have to account to the people of Ohio for the aura of waste and extravagance with which he has surrounded himself."

Smith Submits Resignation As Memorial Hospital Trustee

Eugene Smith, farm resident three miles east of Washington C. H. on Rt. 22, has tendered his resignation as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Fayette County Memorial Hospital to the Fayette County Board of Commissioners. He was appointed two years ago to a six-year term.

In sending his resignation by letter to the commissioners at their regular session Monday morning, Smith stated his action was due to his health which restricts all his activities to his regular position as office manager for Wilson's Hardware and to supervision of his farm.

He expressed regret that his action was necessary and stated that his interest in the hospital was in no way lessened.

Under the present law the county commissioners, the judge of the Common Pleas Court and the judge of the Probate Court, act jointly in matters pertaining to naming members to the hospital trustee board.

The commissioners said Monday that they would arrange for a joint session to consider acceptance of the resignation and decide what action should be taken.

The hospital board is bipartisan and, since Smith is serving as a Democrat, his successor will have to be a Democrat.

Smith indicated to the hospital board recently that he feared he would have to resign, but the other members urged him to hold off as long as possible because they said, they regarded his service as of high value to the board.

COUNTY AUDITOR Harry Allen announced to the commissioners that personal and classified tax reports were still being accepted Monday because the last day of March (time limit set by law) fell on Sunday.

It was noted that 2,134 taxpayers had filed and paid taxes Monday and that he expected the total number for this year to be in excess of the 2,148 who filed last year.

Sheriff Orland Hays advised the commissioners Monday that he

Cars Damaged In Collisions

No One Injured
Seriously, However

No one was injured but several hundred dollars' worth of property was damaged in a trio of auto accidents in the city Friday and Saturday.

A hit-and-run driver allegedly cracked into the rear of an auto owned by Robert Howard Antoine Sr., 31, of 629 High St. Friday night, police said. Antoine reported he found the rear fender and bumper of his parked auto damaged when he returned to his Market St. parking place late Friday.

Another parking accident did damage to a City Taxi Cab driven by Harold Roberts, 23, of 231 Oakwood Ave. Roberts was driving west East St., near the corner of Fayette, when he collided with the rear of a car driven by Shirley M. Gamble, 23, of Hillsboro.

Police said Miss Gamble was backing out of diagonal parking spot when the two cars collided. The fenders and the light of the taxi were damaged. No damage was done to Miss Gamble's car.

William P. Havens, 19, of the Dill Rd., was the driver of an auto that went out of control on N. North near Court when the brakes failed to work. Havens swerved onto the sidewalk to avoid hitting another car, finally came to rest against a fire plug. The fire plug was unbroken, but the collision did approximately $75 worth of damage to Havens' car.

JAMESTOWN, Va. (AP)—The state of Virginia opened an eight-month historical festival today on this tiny James River island where, 3½ centuries ago, the New World was born.

A nearly perfect replica of the first permanent settlement in the New World has been built.

Offshore lie duplicates of the three flaxen-sailed ships which, in 1607, brought the 105 colonists from England—the Susan Constant, the Godspeed and the Discovery.

News in Brief

Drug Injection Far Too Heavy

LONDON (AP)—A prosecution medical expert testified today, the heroin injection Dr. John Bodkin Adams gave a wealthy patient two days before she died was "35 times the normal maximum dose."

Dr. Arthur Douthwaite again firmly insisted the 58-year-old Adams gave drugs to Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell with "murderous intent."

Adams was accused of murdering the 81-year-old widow in November 1950 to gain a chest of silver and Rolls Royce car from her $400,000 estate. The trial is entering its third week.

Dr. Douthwaite is a leading specialist on narcotics.

The prosecution expert said nurses' records on Mrs. Morrell's case indicated Dr. Adams withheld drugs he had been using on the aged widow to incite her craving for them and then "re-introduced" injections that were fatal.

Dr. Douthwaite stood firm in insisting that he felt the drugs were administered by Dr. Adams with the intention of killing.

Under questioning by the judge, the expert said he would be "astonished" if another expert came to any different conclusion based on the records of the case.

Cov. O'Neill's 'Spending' Hit By Dem Chief

COLUMBUS (AP)—State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman believes a "new look of profligate spending" has replaced the "old tradition" of conservatism in the Ohio governor's office. Coleman criticized what he estimated as a 100 per cent increase in Gov. C. William O'Neill's office salaries, a "fantastic expenditure" of $150,000 to remodel the new mansion, and pay increases up to 150 per cent for cabinet members.

"Through the tenures of many governors of both political parties," Coleman said, "the people of Ohio have come to regard the executive office of our state as repositories of those old, simple virtues through which our state has become great—a conservatism in expenditures, regard for the taxpayer and caution in the use of his money."

"Such super-popular governors as Vic Donahey, John Bricker and Frank Lausche were renowned for the care with which they eyed every expenditure of their office."

"That tradition has been tossed to the winds in a short space of three months by the state's new governor."

The sudden elevation from the office of attorney general to the governor's office may have been too much for O'Neill, Coleman said in his statement.

"He may not realize that the people see and the people remember," the Democratic chairman said. "It is only another year until the governor will have to account to the people of Ohio for the aura of waste and extravagance with which he has surrounded himself."

Smith Submits Resignation As Memorial Hospital Trustee

Eugene Smith, farm resident three miles east of Washington C. H. on Rt. 22, has tendered his resignation as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Fayette County Memorial Hospital to the Fayette County Board of Commissioners.

He was appointed two years ago to a six-year term.

In sending his resignation by letter to the commissioners at their regular session Monday morning, Smith stated his action was due to his health which restricts all his activities to his regular position as office manager for Wilson's Hardware and to supervision of his farm.

He expressed regret that his action was necessary and stated that his interest in the hospital was in no way lessened.

Under the present law the county commissioners, the judge of the Common Pleas Court and the judge of the Probate Court, act jointly in matters pertaining to naming members to the hospital trustee board.

The commissioners said Monday that they would arrange for a joint session to consider acceptance of the resignation and decide what action should be taken.

The hospital board is bipartisan and, since Smith is serving as a Democrat, his successor will have to be a Democrat.

Smith indicated to the hospital board recently that he feared he would have to resign, but the other members urged him to hold off as long as possible because they said, they regarded his service as of high value to the board.

COUNTY AUDITOR Harry Allen announced to the commissioners that personal and classified tax reports were still being accepted Monday because the last day of March (time limit set by law) fell on Sunday.

Allen stated that 2,134 taxpayers had filed and paid taxes Monday and that he expected the total number for this year to be in excess of the 2,148 who filed last year.

Sheriff Orland Hays advised the commissioners Monday that he was assigning two of his deputies to attend the three-day FBI school at Columbus April 15, 16 and 17. The school is sponsored by the Buckeye Sheriff's Association.

Cars Damaged In Collisions

No One Injured
Seriously, However

No one was injured but several hundred dollars' worth of property was damaged in a trio of auto accidents in the city Friday and Saturday.

A hit-and-run driver allegedly cracked into the rear of an auto owned by Robert Howard Antoine Sr., 31, of 629 High St. Friday night, police said. Antoine reported he found the rear fender and bumper of his parked auto damaged when he returned to its Market St. parking place late Friday.

Another parking accident did damage to a City Taxi Cab driven by Harold Roberts, 23, of 231 Oakwood Ave. Roberts was driving west East St., near the corner of Fayette, when he collided with the rear of a car driven by Shirley M. Gamble, 23, of Hillsboro.

Police said Miss Gamble was backing out of diagonal parking spot when the two cars collided. The fenders and the light of the taxi were damaged. No damage was done to Miss Gamble's car.

William P. Havens, 19, of the Dill Rd., was the driver of an auto that went out of control on N. North near Court when the brakes failed to work. Havens swerved onto the sidewalk to avoid hitting another car, finally came to rest against a fire plug. The fire plug was unbroken, but the collision did approximately $75 worth of damage to Havens' car.

Akron is a Greek word meaning "high places."

Fayette County Tax Delinquency Among Lowest

Figures Compiled By State Auditor For All Counties

Only four other counties in the state had lower delinquencies of real estate taxes than Fayette County at the end of 1955, according to figures released by the office of the state auditor.

These were the dollars and did not take into account the percentage delinquency. The larger counties—those with bigger tax duplicates—had larger delinquencies, of course.

The state auditor's office report showed the delinquency in Fayette County was $8,481.

Mercer County had the lowest delinquency with $5,924; next was Shelby County with $6,581; then Williams with $7,417 and Van Wert with $8,337.

Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) had the biggest dollar delinquency with $7,566,733. Mahoning County (Youngstown) was next with 2,360.73. The only other two with delinquencies over $1,000,000 were Hamilton (Cincinnati) $1,249,613 and Lucas (Toledo) $1,111,222.

The delinquency in special assessment and personal taxes in Fayette County also was in the lower bracket, but not the lowest in the state with $1,431 delinquent special assessments and $1,941 in personal taxes.

Real estate tax delinquency in Clinton County last year was $41,876; Greene $77,606; Highland $58,081; Madison $26,932; Pickaway $55,861 and Ross $89,679.

FOR THE FIRST time in 16 years, the grand total of delinquent taxes owned by Ohioans showed an upturn in 1956, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported.

At the end of 1956, the total of all delinquent real estate taxes, special assessments, public utility and personal taxes was $39,953,525, according to settlement sheets filed with the state auditor by county auditors. The total at the end of 1955 was $39,230,946.

The increase of $722,579 is small in relation to the total of taxes paid, but it is the first time since 1941 that the downward trend in tax delinquency has been reversed.

Non-payment of current real estate and personal taxes accounts for the increase.

Taxpayers continued to whittle away last year at delinquent taxes for prior years, reports show. They reduced the total of old real estate taxes from $14,352,754 in 1955 to $13,857,254 in 1956. They cut delinquent special assessments from $9,049,309 in 1955 to $7,627,684 in 1956.

At the same time, current real estate taxes that went on the delinquent list increased from $7,849,288 in 1955 to $8,945,608 in 1956, and current personal taxes unpaid jumped from $8,154,076 in 1955 to $9,522,979 in 1956.

Delinquent taxes that make up the 1956 total of $39,953,525 were: Real estate and public utility taxes delinquent, $22,802,862; special assessments delinquent, $7,627,684; tangible and intangible personal taxes delinquent, $9,522,979.

Today's tax delinquency is a far cry from the depression total of $209,771,429 in 1936 when taxpayers owed $113,241,098 in delinquent real estate taxes; $82,680,284 in delinquent special assessments, and $13,849,447 in delinquent personal taxes.

Bitter Hearings Due Soon On Foreign Aid Allocations

Editor's Note: Bitter congressional hearings are brewing over President Eisenhower's request for $4.4 billion for foreign aid. This is the first of five articles which present a searching study of U.S. foreign aid programs as a background for the coming debate.

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Take a $20 bill, three singles, a nickel and two pennies.

This is what the United States foreign aid programs cost you last year. It is the "per capita" figure. In effect, it means that helping other nations took from every American — man, woman and child — $23.07.

Did you get your money's worth?

Did the dollars hit the targets overseas? Merely nick the edges? Or miss completely?

Will the same portion of your taxes be taken this year and sent abroad?

How long does this have to go on? Indefinitely? Or can Congress cut back now, and eventually stop the programs entirely?

Big questions.

They lie like boulders on many desks in Washington today. Thousands of people have written their representatives, some merely puzzled. Their communications have come from all parts of the country, blurring the old boundaries between "isolationist" and "internationalist" sections.

Many of these say, "Cut back!" Some say, "Stop the whole thing." Meanwhile, teams of analysts, specialists, business heads and military men have put the intricate problems under microscopes.

Most of them say, "Don't cut back now." Some recommend, "Step up the pace."

President Eisenhower's own

view: "I believe it is one of the cheapest ways we have of insuring the position in the world we want to maintain."

He has asked for $4,400,000,000 for foreign aid programs for the coming fiscal year.

Congress isn't ready to vote on that yet. Right now, it is taking testimony from key witnesses. Soon the sparks will be flying from a red-hot story.

At this moment, the mood of Congress appears to be for a cut in the $4,400,000,000. Perhaps to the bone.

Some legislators talk of a one-billion-dollar cut. Others would go even deeper.

Here are some reflections — "Insofar as winning friends or battling the Russians, our foreign aid program has been an abysmal failure," says Sen. Ellender (D-La.). He traveled in 28 countries last year and submitted a 525-page report to the Senate.

"It's a good program," says Sen. Cooper (R-Ky), former ambassador to India. "Nations in the Middle East and Asia that have recently become independent, and are trying to establish a stable economy have great needs. We can't determine where they're going to land. But if we're trying to establish the right kind of feeling, we must help them."

"A lot of technical assistance has been baloney," says Congressman Taber (R-N.Y.), veteran member of the House Appropriations Committee. He said he believed the administration of the International Cooperation Administration has improved, but added, "There are still many people in it with nothing but political qualifications for their jobs."

Recluse Gets Her Pyramid, But Small One

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP)—Miss Florence Groff's last wish has been fulfilled — her earthly remains rest under a pyramid. But the pyramid is just a chip of what she really wanted.

Miss Groff, a recluse who lived alone for years in a debris-littered old house in Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., died in 1948 at an age of more than 90.

In her will, she directed that her $40,000 estate be used to erect a pyramid over her family's burial plot at Cincinnati's Spring Grove Cemetery. She wanted one with a base large enough to cover the entire 425 square feet of the plot.

Distant relatives contested the will but in 1952 a compromise was worked out. It was agreed that up to $10,000 could be spent on a smaller monument.

Saturday, Westchester County

The Record-Herald Monday, Apr. 1, 1957 3 Washington C. H., Ohio

Public Administrator Kenneth C. Cole reported that the pyramid had been erected in Cincinnati—with a base six feet square and a height of six feet.

Cole said it cost $7,000. The remainder of the estate will go to the relatives.

Miss Groff was the daughter of the late Dr. William T. Groff of Cincinnati, a noted Egyptologist and archeologist. Miss Groff and other members of the family went with him on many trips to the Middle East.

It was this background which gave Miss Groff a desire to be buried with her family under the age-old symbol of the ancient Egyptian pharaohs.

Her father, mother and a brother all died abroad and were buried there. In her will she also asked that their bodies be returned for reburial with hers in the Cincinnati plot. They were brought back in 1954.

Deputies Recover Man's Lost Ear

ELYRIA (AP)—Two deputies found Michael Herrera's right ear on the Ohio Turnpike Saturday and it was restored to its normal place by a surgeon at Elyria Memorial Hospital.

The incident began when an auto containing six young people smashed into the center pier of a turnpike bridge over Ohio 57.

The 20-year-old Lorain man, thrown through the car's windshield, was among the injured.

When a doctor at the hospital asked deputies George Rozic and Michael De Nicol to see if they could find the ear, the pair rushed back to the scene, located the ear and sped once again to the hospital. It was stitched into place.

Thomas Jefferson was the first President of the United States to give a public reception at the White House.

Real estate tax delinquency in Clinton County last year was $41,876; Greene $77,606; Highland $58,081; Madison $26,932; Pickaway $55,861 and Ross $89,679.

FOR THE FIRST time in 16 years, the grand total of delinquent taxes owned by Ohioans showed an upturn in 1956, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported.

At the end of 1956, the total of all delinquent real estate taxes, special assessments, public utility and personal taxes was $39,953,325, according to settlement sheets filed with the state auditor by county auditors. The total at the end of 1955 was $39,230,946.

The increase of $722,579 is small in relation to the total of taxes paid, but it is the first time since 1941 that the downward trend in tax delinquency has been reversed.

Non-payment of current real estate and personal taxes accounts for the increase.

Taxpayers continued to whittle away last year at delinquent taxes for prior years, reports show. They reduced the total of old real estate taxes from $14,352,754 in 1955 to $13,857,254 in 1956. They cut delinquent special assessments from $9,049,309 in 1955 to $7,627,684 in 1956.

At the same time, current real estate taxes that went on the delinquent list increased from $7,849,288 in 1955 to $8,945,608 in 1956, and current personal taxes unpaid jumped from $8,154,070 in 1955 to $9,522,979 in 1956.

Delinquent taxes that make up the 1956 total of $39,953,325 were: Real estate and public utility taxes delinquent, $22,802,862; special assessments delinquent, $7,627,684; tangible and intangible personal taxes delinquent, $9,522,979.

Today's tax delinquency is a far cry from the depression total of $209,771,429 in 1936 when taxpayers owed $113,241,698 in delinquent real estate taxes; $82,680,284 in delinquent special assessments, and $13,849,447 in delinquent personal taxes.

Bitter Hearings Due Soon On Foreign Aid Allocations

Editor's Note: Bitter congressional hearings are brewing over President Eisenhower's request for $4.4 billion for foreign aid. This is the first of five articles which present a searching study of U.S. foreign aid programs as a background for the coming debate.

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (P)—Take a $20 bill, three singles, a nickel and two pennies.

This is what the United States foreign aid programs cost you last year. It is the "per capita" figure. In effect, it means that helping other nations took from every American—man, woman and child—$23.07.

Did you get your money's worth? Did the dollars hit the targets overseas? Merely nick the edges? Or miss completely?

Will the same portion of your taxes be taken this year and sent abroad?

How long does this have to go on? Indefinitely? Or can Congress cut back now, and eventually stop the programs entirely?

Big questions.

They lie like boulders on many desks in Washington today. Thousands of people have written their representatives, some merely puzzled. Their communications have come from all parts of the country, blurring the old boundaries between "isolationist" and "internationalist" sections.

Many of these say, "Cut back!" Some say, "Stop the whole thing." Meanwhile, teams of analysts, specialists, business heads and military men have put the intricate problems under microscopes. Most of them say, "Don't cut back now." Some recommend, "Step up the pace."

President Eisenhower's own

view: "I believe it is one of the cheapest ways we have of insuring the position in the world we want to maintain."

He has asked for $4,400,000,000 for foreign aid programs for the coming fiscal year.

Congress isn't ready to vote on that yet. Right now, it is taking testimony from key witnesses. Soon the sparks will be flying from a red-hot story.

At this moment, the mood of Congress appears to be for a cut in the $4,400,000,000. Perhaps to the bone.

Some legislators talk of a one-billion-dollar cut. Others would go even deeper.

Here are some reflections — "Insofar as winning friends or battling the Russians, our foreign aid program has been an abysmal failure," says Sen. Ellender (D-La.). He traveled in 28 countries last year and submitted a 525-page report to the Senate.

"It's a good program," says Sen. Cooper (R-Ky.), former ambassador to India. "Nations in the Middle East and Asia that have recently become independent, and are trying to establish a stable economy have great needs. We can't determine where they're going to land. But if we're trying to establish the right kind of feeling, we must help them."

"A lot of technical assistance has been baloney," says Congressman Taber (R-NY), veteran member of the House Appropriations Committee. He said he believed the administration of the International Cooperation Administration has improved, but added, "There are still many people in it with nothing but political qualifications for their jobs."

Recluse Gets Her Pyramid, But Small One

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (P)—Miss Florence Groff's last wish has been fulfilled — her earthly remains rest under a pyramid. But the pyramid is just a chip of what she really wanted.

Miss Groff, a recluse who lived alone for years in a debris-littered old house in Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., died in 1948 at an age of more than 90.

In her will, she directed that her $40,000 estate be used to erect a pyramid over her family's burial plot at Cincinnati's Spring Grove Cemetery. She wanted one with a base large enough to cover the entire 425 square feet of the plot.

Distant relatives contested the will but in 1952 a compromise was worked out. It was agreed that up to $10,000 could be spent on a smaller monument.

Saturday, Westchester County

Public Administrator Kenneth C. Cole reported that the pyramid had been erected in Cincinnati—with a base six feet square and a height of six feet.

Cole said it cost $7,000. The remainder of the estate will go to the relatives.

Miss Groff was the daughter of the late Dr. William T. Groff of Cincinnati, a noted Egyptologist and archeologist. Miss Groff and other members of the family went with him on many trips to the Middle East.

It was this background which gave Miss Groff a desire to be buried with her family under the age-old symbol of the ancient Egyptian pharaohs.

Her father, mother and a brother all died abroad and were buried there. In her will she also asked that their bodies be returned for reburial with hers in the Cincinnati plot. They were brought back in 1954.

Deputies Recover Man's Lost Ear

ELYRIA (P)—Two deputies found Michael Herrera's right ear on the Ohio Turnpike Saturday and it was restored to its normal place by a surgeon at Elyria Memorial Hospital.

The incident began when an auto containing six young people smashed into the center pier of a turnpike bridge over Ohio 57.

The 20-year-old Lorain man, thrown through the car's windshield, was among the injured.

When a doctor at the hospital asked deputies George Rozic and Michael De Nicolò to see if they could find the ear, the pair rushed back to the scene, located the ear and sped once again to the hospital. It was stitched into place.

Thomas Jefferson was the first President of the United States to give a public reception at the White House.

Carelessness a Poor Excuse In Burglary

News reports here in Fayette County as well as from similar localities, and especially from many of the larger cities, seem to be showing up an unusual lot of burglaries and similar crimes.

The cause is hard to analyze with any degree of accuracy. Some say it is the outgrowth of the wave of juvenile delinquency which is being viewed with alarm across the country. Others contend that the present day fast pace of living, the desire to acquire easy money without much effort and lack of high moral standards on the part of so many people, is the reason.

As to burglaries, maybe some of them are almost invited by carelessness on the part of people who leave their houses unlocked and go away night or day without thought of prowlers about their places.

Authorities declare that only a limited number of burglars can pick a simple lock but they find a new victim every 80 seconds because of lost keys, wrong type of locks and locks that simply aren't used.

A lock is good protection against a burglar only if it is used correctly. Some suggested precautions from police authorities against the common burglar are: If there is an eye window in your front door, use it when the doorbell rings. If there isn't, install an auxiliary chain lock, so the door can be opened a few inches without leaving you vulnerable. Never unlock your door and open up blindly when a stranger rings the bell. Many a thug has talked open a door by posing as a telegraph messenger, delivery boy, salesman, or passer-by seeking directions to another address.

Whenever you leave the house, make sure the door is locked. You may think it is, yet be sadly mistaken.

A common type of burglar pretends to be a door-to-door salesman. While giving his sales talk, he releases the night latch, hoping that when the lady goes out later, she won't notice he can walk in. Even with a "dead bolt" type lock, which can be unlocked from either side only with a key, the fake salesman may jam some paper or cotton into the strike, so that the bolt will fail to hold when closed. Or he may even use a specially built, short screwdriver hidden in his hand to loosen a screw which anchors the lock's cylinder. Once this vital screw is loose, he can return later and take off the whole lock.

Another mistake some people make, after locking a door, is to leave a spare key in too obvious a spot outside. Burglars appreciate, too, a back door with a glass pane, making it easy to reach inside and turn the lock after breaking the glass. If you have a door like this, use a dead lock which opens or closes only with a key, inside or out.

Unscreened windows with simple catches can be unlocked in the same way. Simply use wood screws at the two top corners of the bottom half of the sash to bar this entrance way. Check the outer doors, also, to see if the hinges are on the outside. It's easy for a burglar to remove the door completely if the hinges are exposed. Install hinge pins which are fixed securely in place, the magazine advises.

Millionaire Tells Wealth Secret

NEW YORK (AP)—Multimillionaire Axel Wenner-Gren, "the Swedish Sphinx," says it is a mystery to him why he is some times called "the mystery man of international finance."

"If I spent all my time talking about what I was doing, I wouldn't have time left to do all the things I still want to," he said.

"I am no mystery man. I have tried to keep out of the spotlight, but sometimes you have to throw a little light on what you are at tempting to do."

And in his 70th year Dr. Wenner-Gren feels he is now embarked on the biggest project of his life. It is the opening up of a 40,000-square-mile frontier tract in British Columbia, a wilderness area of Canada almost as large as England and Wales combined.

Wenner-Gren has deposited half a million dollars with British Columbia provincial authorities as a guarantee he will build a 400-mile monorail in the area by 1960. But before then he expects to spend $5 million to inventory its mineral, hydro-electric and timber resources.

"This is the most important thing I have ever tried," said Wenner-Gren, "because it will mean more to more people."

His company has agreed to provide hospitals and schools in the area as it develops, and his own share of any profits have been pledged to philanthropies.

His associates estimate that if the territory proves as rich in resources as they expect, more than a billion dollars of capital will eventually be required to develop them.

Wenner-Gren, who is tanned, gray-haired and as vigorous as his Viking forbears, is often referred to as "one of the five richest men in the world."

His blue eyes twinkle in amusement when asked if it is true that he belongs in this charmed circle of wealth.

"I don't know myself," he said. "I wish I were. But as soon as I have more than I want I give it away."

Associates have estimated he has given up to $50 million to various scientific and health foundations he has established here and in Sweden. He doesn't like to discuss his private philanthropies.

Wenner-Gren has moved fabulous amounts of money around the map of the world as an ordinary man might move checkers on a checkerboard.

He is an organization genius, and is now reported to have active business interests in 20 countries. He founded his fortune on vacuum cleaners and home refrigerators, but today his scores of corporations make everything from diet pills to railroad trains.

The real mystery to most people is how this "mystery man" who in 1907 was getting 15 cents an hour in a New Jersey tractor factory, became a 20th century croesus.

But Wenner-Gren doesn't mind disclosing his secret of how to become rich.

"All that is required to make a million dollars is hard work, self-discipline and common sense," he observed drily.

There, the secret is yours.

tax evasions, any technique is satisfactory that achieves their purpose.

Thus far, congressional committees investigating raiders have missed most of the points at issue because they fail to realize that it is the continuance of the war economy and the possibility of tax evasion which make raiding so attractive.

George Humphrey said: "... The only government money that any person can get must come from the taxes he pays whether the payment is by check from Washington or from the city or county treasurer or the town selectmen."

How true! For many, the government check, an unwarranted subsidy, is really a tax kick-back.

Try and Stop Me

GEORGE DIXON swears he read this in a book published long ago in the deep South:

"After chasing the Union army all over the map, the Confederates pulled up at Appomattox, planning to wipe out the Yankees... General Lee was resting at the town's courthouse when in walked General Grant to surrender. Lee took the Union general to be an orderly, so he gave him his sword to polish. Astonished, Grant took the sword, thinking Lee had surrendered instead. He even thanked Lee for surrendering and, being a true Southern gentleman, Lee couldn't go back on his word."

The parents of a 150-pound, 10-year-old boy were surprised to learn that he had won the part of Cleopatra in a school play. "But why," asked his mother, "did they give such a part to the huskiest lad in the class?"

"They had to," explained the boy cheerfully. "It was my snake!"

Diet and Health Arthritis Treated With New Hormone

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

A new hormone for treating arthritis and a new extra powerful hearing aid are among the advances which I would like to discuss today in our monthly review of medicine.

The new hormone is known as triamcinolone. A synthetic hormone of the cortisone family, it was tested recently on 18 patients in preliminary clinical trials with good results.

No Side Effects
All patients, treated for periods varying from five months to a few weeks, responded favorably. Apparently, there were no serious side effects.

The doctors who conducted the investigations report that the compound is at least as effective as, or better than, currently available material in controlling the inflammatory manifestations of rheumatoid arthritis such as swollen and painful joints, stiffness and fever.

Softest Sounds
The extra-power hearing aid is said to bring the softest sounds to persons with extreme hearing loss. The new five-transistor instrument, according to reports, enables a severely handicapped person to hear the softest music and speech.

The high-powered output of the device, the manufacturer's claim, covers a wide range of high and low tones, many of them sounds which users have been unable to hear in the past.

Valuable Drug
Another development in the medical field is the increased use of chloramphenicol. Although not a new drug, it is becoming increasingly valuable in treating bacterial diseases.

Indiscriminate use of some other broad spectrum antibiotics, doctors report, has made many persons resistant to them. Chloramphenicol, on the other hand, still is effective.

Answer: No, freezing usually preserves rather than harms them. Excessive heat can be detrimental to vitamins.

Fire Inspectors Going to School

Ohioan Is Held In Boston Slaying

BOSTON (AP)—Police Sunday booked Nathan Fisher of Cincinnati, on suspicion of murder after he walked into a police station and reported he had strangled Inez Montgomery, 27, Boston.

Fisher said he met the girl when he arrived here two days ago. He took her to his apartment and strangled her following an argument, he told police.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any chance of civil rights legislation passing Congress this year? Don't bet on it. Some people are optimistic. But Southerners, as usual, are against new civil rights laws.

The House Judiciary Committee has approved a bill — essentially the kind asked by President Eisenhower — but the full House hasn't voted on it yet. The Rules Committee still must clear it.

It's almost certain to pass the House, where debate is limited. The Senate Judiciary Committee hasn't approved any bills yet. If it does, the measure will probably be similar to the House bill.

But then, when it comes before the full Senate where debate is unlimited, it faces a Southern filibuster which, for generations, has been able to block civil rights legislation.

This describes the House bill: 1. It would authorize Eisenhower to create a six-man commission to study the whole field of civil rights for two years and then make recommendations. The commission could subpoena witnesses and records.

This authority means power: the commission could force witnesses to testify or, if they refuse, face a fine and jail sentence in federal court.

If Eisenhower created such a commission on his own it would lack subpoena power and therefore be handcuffed from the start. It would have to depend on hostile witnesses for voluntary cooperation.

Southerners argue against the proposed subpoena power.

2. At present the Justice Department has a civil rights section tucked away in its Criminal Division. The House bill would create both a new Civil Rights Division and a new assistant attorney general to run it.

Not much argument on that one.

3. At present in the South if someone — say a registrar of voters — interferes with a Negro's voting rights, the latter could ask a federal judge to issue an injunction to stop the interference.

If the registrar ignored the injunction, the Negro could go back and tell the judge the registrar was in contempt of court. If the judge acted then, the registrar would have to be given a trial by jury.

The Eisenhower administration proposed — and the House bill provides for it — that in such a case of voting interference it would be the government which asked the judge for an injunction.

In short, the Negro wouldn't have to get a lawyer and go to court. The government would go to court. Then if the registrar ignores the injunction, the government, not the Negro, would notify the judge.

In this kind of case — where the government initiated the action — the registrar could be tried on contempt charges by the judge alone, not by a jury.

Southerners make their biggest protest over this, arguing the right of trial by jury for everyone facing a jail sentence.

Those pushing the bill don't budge under that argument. They contend there are already many laws on the books — for instance, in antitrust suits — where the attorney general initiates action for an injunction and contempt and the trial is by judge alone.

tax evasions, any technique is satisfactory that achieves their purpose.

Thus far, congressional committees investigating raiders have missed most of the points at issue because they fail to realize that it is the continuance of the war economy and the possibility of tax evasion which make raiding so attractive.

George Humphrey said: "... The only government money that any person can get must come from the taxes he pays whether the payment is by check from Washington or from the city or county treasurer or the town selectmen."

How true! For many, the government check, an unwarranted subsidy, is really a tax kick-back.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

A new hormone for treating arthritis and a new extra powerful hearing aid are among the advances which I would like to discuss today in our monthly review of medicine.

The new hormone is known as triaminolone. A synthetic hormone of the cortisone family, it was tested recently on 18 patients in preliminary clinical trials with good results.

No Side Effects

All patients, treated for periods varying from five months to a few weeks, responded favorably. Apparently, there were no serious side effects.

The doctors who conducted the investigations report that the compound is at least as effective as, or better than, currently available material in controlling the inflammatory manifestations of rheumatoid arthritis such as swollen and painful joints, stiffness and fever.

Softest Sounds

The extra-power hearing aid is said to bring the softest sounds to persons with extreme hearing loss. The new five-transistor instrument, according to reports, enables a severely handicapped person to hear the softest music and speech.

The high-powered output of the device, the manufacturers claim, covers a wide range of high and low tones, many of them sounds which users have been unable to hear in the past.

Valuable Drug

Another development in the medical field is the increased use of chloramphenicol. Although not a new drug, it is becoming increasingly valuable in treating bacterial diseases.

Indiscriminate use of some other broad spectrum antibiotics, doctors report, has made many persons resistant to them. Chloramphenicol, on the other hand, still is effective.

Answer: No, freezing usually preserves rather than harms them. Excessive heat can be detrimental to vitamins.

Fire Inspectors Going to School

COLUMBUS (AP)—A five-day school for 26 Ohio state fire inspectors, representing all 88 counties, is being held here this week.

Emmett P. Brush Jr., state fire marshal, said the school is the first of its type in modern times. Its primary purpose, he said, is to make certain that all fire hazard laws are observed and that inspections are made on all public buildings.

Ohioan Is Held In Boston Slaying

BOSTON (AP)—Police Sunday booked Nathan Fisher of Cincinnati, on suspicion of murder after he walked into a police station and reported he had strangled Inez Montgomery, 27, Boston.

Fisher said he met the girl when he arrived here two days ago. He took her to his apartment and strangled her following an argument, he told police.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any chance of civil rights legislation passing Congress this year? Don't bet on it. Some people are optimistic. But Southerners, as usual, are against new civil rights laws.

The House Judiciary Committee has approved a bill — essentially the kind asked by President Eisenhower — but the full House hasn't voted on it yet. The Rules Committee still must clear it.

It's almost certain to pass the House, where debate is limited. The Senate Judiciary Committee hasn't approved any bills yet. If it does, the measure will probably be similar to the House bill.

But then, when it comes before the full Senate where debate is unlimited, it faces a Southern filibuster which, for generations, has been able to block civil rights legislation.

This describes the House bill:
1. It would authorize Eisenhower to create a six-man commission to study the whole field of civil rights for two years and then make recommendations. The commission could subpoena witnesses and records.

This authority means power: the commission could force witnesses to testify or, if they refuse, face a fine and jail sentence in federal court.

If Eisenhower created such a commission on his own it would lack subpoena power and therefore be handcuffed from the start. It would have to depend on hostile witnesses for voluntary cooperation.

Southerners argue against the proposed subpoena power.

2. At present the Justice Department has a civil rights section tucked away in its Criminal Division. The House bill would create both a new Civil Rights Division and a new assistant attorney general to run it.

Not much argument on that one.

3. At present in the South if someone — say a registrar of voters — interferes with a Negro's voting rights, the latter could ask a federal judge to issue an injunction to stop the interference.

If the registrar ignored the injunction, the Negro could go back and tell the judge the registrar was in contempt of court. If the judge acted then, the registrar would have to be given a trial by jury.

The Eisenhower administration proposed — and the House bill provides for it — that in such a case of voting interference it would be the government which asked the judge for an injunction.

In short, the Negro wouldn't have to get a lawyer and go to

Conservation Group Asks Change in Law

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio Conservation Congress wants the state to lift its restriction on out-of-state residents becoming Ohio public officials.

A resolution adopted at the closing session of the congress' three-day convention here Sunday said "the state should be encouraged and empowered to appoint to state office the best qualified personnel irrespective of the state of official residence of such personnel at the time of appointment."

In other resolutions, the Congress called for the state purchase of Cedar Point, which it said would improve recreational facilities along Lake Erie; more small boat launching ramps, especially in the Sandusky, Lorain and Cleveland areas, and a general survey of recreational facilities in Ohio.

Fred Shepherd of Columbus was elected director of new District 5, which includes the area around Columbus, and Fred Spangler of Columbus was named a director at large.

Officers re-elected were: Dr. B. K. Jones, Cambridge, president; H. Paul Young, Lancaster, first vice president; Lester Baringer, Canton, second vice president; Clarence Lappin, North Canton, assistant secretary, and Lawrence Poorman of Vandalia and Fred Brokaw of Cambridge, directors at large.

court. The government would go to court. Then if the registrar ignored the injunction, the government, not the Negro, would notify the judge.

In this kind of case — where the government initiated the action — the registrar could be tried on contempt charges by the judge alone, not by a jury.

Southerners make their biggest protest over this, arguing the right of trial by jury for everyone facing a jail sentence.

Those pushing the bill don't budge under that argument. They contend there are already many laws on the books — for instance, in antitrust suits — where the attorney general initiates action for an injunction and contempt and the trial is by judge alone.

Ashtabula Sees Lake Fleet Blessed

ASHTABULA (AP)—About 1,000 persons met at the harbor here Sunday for the seventh annual Blessing of the Fleet ceremonies held on the steps of the U. S. Coast Guard station under the auspices of the Holy Name Society of Mother of Sorrows Roman Catholic Church.

The Rev. James R. Hennessy, pastor, prayed for the protection of ships and sailors on the Great Lakes and then toured the harbor in a tug, blessing the docks, the lighthouse, ore carriers and other ships getting ready for the 1957 lakes season.

The Over-Sized Budget

George Humphrey, secretary of the treasury, in a speech in Detroit, spelled out the facts of our over-sized budget so that none may misunderstand. He said:

"... But, we can eventually have trouble, if, over a long period of time the government keeps taking in taxes too much of the money that should be going into making the jobs to keep our growing population well employed."

Conversely this might be stated that the citizen should be permitted by government to keep a larger share of his own earnings, to invest it for his own profit according to his own judgment.

This is the essence of the capitalist system, an economic process which was employed freely during the upbuilding period of American history, but which is now restricted by a system of taxation which lessens the opportunities of most Americans, although it provides special benefits for those who shrewdly apply financial gimmicks to their affairs.

The secretary of the treasury is altogether correct in warning the people of the dangers of excessive public spending. The White House sent the $71,800,000,000 budget to Congress to cut it if it can. If the President regards the budget as excessive, why did he not cut out the excess himself? As the secretary of the treasury regards the budget as excessive, why did he not show the President how to cut it?

The current procedure looks like the old army game which means that a budget is padded in the expectation that when the padding is taken out, the remaining amount will be just what was expected.

George Humphrey, as a capitalist economist, makes sense in his speeches but as a friend of the President and as a member of his cabinet, he is caught in a difficult situation. For instance, in discussing what might be done in case of a depression, he said:

"... Certainly the government might increase its activity within its means. It might well carry forward in times of downturn certain federal expenditures which should be postponed in a period of high activity. But such stepped-up expenditures would be kept within reasonable bounds and handled in such a way as not to shake confidence in the responsibility of the government. The action of the government, whatever it might be, should then be such as to stimulate the confidence of the people to expend their own activities, and thus expand private spending because it is obvious that if government's activity should shake the people's confidence, then it might well retard private spending which in normal times is many times more than public spending can be."

This is so correct, but why does the administration, in such a year as this, propose a budget of $71,800,000,000? The Hoover reports and Senator Harry F. Byrd have indicated where cuts can be made but one wonders why the Hoover reports received such a weak reception in the Eisenhower administration and why, if Senator Byrd can find places to cut, the Eisenhower administration has found none.

It is always possible to give the impression of a balanced budget by taxing the people sufficiently to produce a balance. But is the economy balanced? That is the question that must face the American people because, sooner or later, inflationary spending can so depreciate the value of the currency of the nation as to destroy all values.

The reason that raiders are bringing money from Zurich, Caracas, Montevideo, Canada and other places into the United States to disrupt American industry, is because they reason that the United States will continue on a war basis indefinitely.

As long as that is so, they can make enormous profits out of this country while avoiding taxes through numerous financial gimmicks, such as combining profitable with unprofitable enterprises. Ruthless men, seeking legitimate

Mrs. John Case Is Hostess at WCTU Meeting

The Washington C. H. Union of the WCTU met at the home of Mrs. John Case Friday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. John G. Jordan, presiding.

Three hymns were sung for the opening, with Mrs. B. E. Kelley accompanying at the piano. Mrs. Thomas Watts was devotional leader and before opening the service she expressed her thanks and deep appreciation for all the cards, flowers and kindnesses that she received at the time of the loss of her husband. She chose as her worship theme "Directing Our Thoughts" and emphasized the importance of right thoughts and prayer and that we should go to God in prayer and He will reveal himself unto us in different ways, as has been pointed out to us in various scripture lessons. Mrs. Watts then closed with prayer.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. B. E. Kelley, and the treasurer, Mrs. Elza W. Sanderson, gave her report. A motion was made by Mrs. Homer G. Garringer and carried, that members bring a new member or guest to the May meeting.

The program leader, Mrs. Garringer, paid tribute to Mrs. Minnie J. Sturgeon, recently deceased at the age of 90 years. She was a member of the Sugar Grove WCTU of which her mother had made her a life time member when she was but 10 years old. Mrs. Garringer then gave some interesting highlights of the organization of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, how the finances are apportioned to the local union, county, state, national and world works, also temperance magazines and other literature, which was most informative.

After singing a request hymn, Mrs. Case reviewed another chapter of the study book, on the menace of alcohol.

Two round robin cards were sent to sick members. The flower mission report was 38 cards, 42 calls, four gifts, three bouquets and nine donations. Mrs. W. R. Ellison and Mrs. William Swope were guests and Mrs. Ellison was welcomed as a new member. The benediction closed the program.

Mrs. Case served a dessert course during the social hour, assisted by Mrs. Anna K. DeWeese, Mrs. Iva Kellough, Miss Clara Wood, Mrs. Earl Grim and Mrs. Francis Junk.

Comfort Knotting Club's Project

The Sunny Side Willing Workers met at the home of Mrs. Lester Walker Friday, with 17 members attending.

Dinner and Annual Inspection At Masonic Hall For OES

The sixty-third annual inspection of Royal Chapter No. 29, Order of the Eastern Star, was held Friday evening in the Masonic Temple with 93 guests and 81 members present.

The inspection was preceded by a tempting dinner prepared by the Twin Oaks Garden Club and the Golden Rule S. S. class of Good Hope and served by the men of the Eastern Star. The colors of pink and violet were carried out in the appointments of the dinner table. Nut cups were small violets on pink stars and African violets and pink candles, were used down the center of the tables.

The chapter meeting was opened with Worthy Matron Irene Thornburg and Worthy Patron Marvin Thornburg presiding in the East. Distinguished guests included Marie L. Hamilton, past grand matron; William R. Owen, past grand patron; Marjorie Kuntzman, deputy grand matron; Clara Wilkinson, grand representative of the District of Columbia; Lucille Butler, grand representative of Oklahoma; Nell Hughes, grand representative of Utah; Charles Wallace, worshipful master of Bloomington Lodge, F and A. M.; Dennis Hawk, illustrious master of Fayette Council No. 100; 10 visiting matrons; five visiting worthy patrons; 18 past matrons and seven past patrons of Royal Chapter; Virginia Moats, district treasurer. Each group was graciously greeted by the worthy matron with an appropriate Bible verse. Other guests were from Circleville, Dayton, Pataskala, Williamsport, Frankfort, Greenfield, Jeffersonville, New Holland, Bethel, Waverly, Adelphi, Seville, New Vienna, Columbus, Clarksville, Kingston, Bainbridge and Wilmington.

The degrees were impressively exemplified by the officers for two candidates. Glendine Kelly was soloist for the ceremony. The inspecting officer, Marjorie Kuntzman, deputy grand matron of District 23, gave an excellent report and commended the chapter members for their many projects and good works. Following the report she gave a short talk on "The Crosses We Must Bear" and closed with a poem.

Worthy Matron Irene Thornburg then pointed out that March 29, 1894, was the date the Royal Chapter was instituted. Since there are no living charter members, she commemorated Eva J. Penn, past grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Ohio in 1912.

This charter member served the Grand Chapter on different committees and holding various offices from 1895 until 1931, she was a loyal member until her passing on May 29, 1938. Eva J. Penn's picture, Grand Chapter ritual and other mementoes were displayed in the banquet room with Past Patron Ralph Penn and Sister Maude Penn answering questions.

After a closing Bible thought by Worthy Patron Marvin Thornburg, Past Grand Patron William Owen gave the farewell, and Royal Chapter was closed in ritualistic form.

Members and guests were invited to the banquet room for punch and cookies, where the lace covered table was centered with a star filled with wood violets and a pink candle at each point. Sister Ethel Stewardson, president of the Past Matrons Circle and Sister Helen Flee, junior past matron, served.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am an Irish girl, 25, in this country five years. Always I have been told I am very attractive, with lots of sex appeal—in fact too much, as this is my trouble.

At present I am very bored and fed-up with myself, and not in love with anyone. When I first arrived here I started dating and having a gay time, and met lots of boys and had many romances, but never fell in love and never went steady—just drifted from one boy to another.

Many boys have said they liked me (what they meant, I don't know) and we never did anything wrong. Then, as all my friends began to marry, I felt lonely and blue. And when a French boy came along—who fell in love with me, I know—we started an affair. Finally I got bored and gave him up.

The worst of it is, I reckon a lot since then and just don't care—thinking I can hold on to a boy. My girl friend says she got her husband that way, and they dearly love each other. Now I have a boy friend—away from here—to whom I write, and he just likes to date and kiss goodnight. He says he loves me, but I don't love him. Yet if I were to marry him, I might get all of this out of my mind.

I wish never to do wrong again, but I am too easy, especially with boys I don't expect to see again. I am afraid to admit to myself that I am a bad girl; but what does a girl do?

I never had any real love at home, as my mother died when I was quite young. Will I ever fall in love? Should I try to meet somebody new and make him love me?

G. N.

DEAR G. N.: You haven't known love as yet, because inwardly you are too hostile against humankind, and too self-despising—as a result of negative rearing—to have an outgoing hospitable interest in individuals: in their life history, personality or elfare. In a word, "you are frigid."

Being frigid and socially adrift in a new environment, not anchored to anybody, it follows that you might feel isolated and blue, and acutely threatened by a sense of unreality at times. To escape this awful feeling, to bridge the gulf between yourself and others, you would anxiously tolerate physical contact, even physical intimacy without love-content (hence without meaning)—as a substitute for the psychological relatedness that is missing.

From the psychiatric view, this is an understandable mistake; and it is the story of countless thousands of frigid neurotics, who get piously entangled with wrong associates—and miss the road to health and happiness—while groping for help that they can't design.

You aren't bad in the real sense of electing evil for its own sake, as versus good. Rather you are simply "going from bad to worse," for lack of guidance and righteous help in being a woman. And your shabby unsatisfactory romancing is not so much the problem that needs attention, as it is a symptom of deep distraction.

You must have first-hand help—which fortunately is freely available, through pastoral clinics in the leading churches in your city; also through Family Service units there.

home, as my mother died when I was quite young. Will I ever fall in love? Should I try to meet somebody new and make him love me?

G. N.

DEAR G. N.: You haven't known love as yet, because inwardly you are too hostile against humankind, and too self-despising—as a result of negative rearing—to have an outgoing hospitable interest in individuals: in their life history, personality or elfare. In a word, "you are frigid."

Being frigid and socially adrift in a new environment, not anchored to anybody, it follows that you might feel isolated and blue, and acutely threatened by a sense of unreality at times. To escape this awful feeling, to bridge the gulf between yourself and others, you would anxiously tolerate physical contact, even physical intimacy without love-content (hence without meaning)—as a substitute for the psychological relatedness that is missing.

From the psychiatric view, this is an understandable mistake; and it is the story of countless thousands of frigid neurotics, who get piously entangled with wrong associates—and miss the road to health and happiness—while groping for help that they can't design.

You aren't bad in the real sense of electing evil for its own sake, as versus good. Rather you are simply "going from bad to worse," for lack of guidance and righteous help in being a woman. And your shabby unsatisfactory romancing is not so much the problem that needs attention, as it is a symptom of deep distraction.

You must have first-hand help—which fortunately is freely available, through pastoral clinics in the leading churches in your city; also through Family Service units there.

Mrs. John Case Is Hostess at WCTU Meeting

The Washington C. H. Union of the WCTU met at the home of Mrs. John Case Friday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. John G. Jordan, presiding.

Three hymns were sung for the opening, with Mrs. B. E. Kelley accompanying at the piano. Mrs. Thomas Watts was devotion leader and before opening the service she expressed her thanks and deep appreciation for all the cards, flowers and kindnesses that she received at the time of the loss of her husband. She chose as her worship theme "Directing Our Thoughts" and emphasized the importance of right thoughts and prayer and that we should go to God in prayer and He will reveal himself unto us in different ways, as has been pointed out to us in various scripture lessons. Mrs. Watts then closed with prayer.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. B. E. Kelley, and the treasurer, Mrs. Elza W. Sanderson, gave her report. A motion was made by Mrs. Homer G. Garringer and carried, that members bring a new member or guest to the May meeting.

The program leader, Mrs. Garringer, paid tribute to Mrs. Minnie J. Sturgeon, recently deceased at the age of 90 years. She was a member of the Sugar Grove WCTU of which her mother had made her a life time member when she was but 10 years old. Mrs. Garringer then gave some interesting highlights of the organization of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, how the finances are apportioned to the local union, county, state, national and world works, also temperance magazines and other literature, which was most informative.

After singing a request hymn, Mrs. Case reviewed another chapter of the study book, on the menace of alcohol.

Two round robin cards were sent to sick members. The flower mission report was 38 cards, 42 calls, four gifts, three bouquets and nine donations. Mrs. W. R. Ellison and Mrs. William Swope were guests and Mrs. Ellison was welcomed as a new member. The benediction closed the program.

Mrs. Case served a dessert course during the social hour, assisted by Mrs. Anna K. DeWeese, Mrs. Iva Kellough, Miss Clara Wood, Mrs. Earl Grim and Mrs. Francis Junk.

Comfort Knotting Club's Project

The Sunny Side Willing Workers met at the home of Mrs. Lester Walker Friday, with 17 members attending.

The president, Mrs. Edgar Richardson, opened the meeting and presented Mrs. M. E. Stewart who was in charge of the devotions. Mrs. Stewart read the 14th chapter of John and Mrs. Marie Miller closed with prayer.

The secretary and treasurer reports were read and approved. The club's project was a comfort knotting held recently at the home of Mrs. Willard Moore. One large and four small comforters were made for the Children's Home.

Round robin cards were sent to the sick members and then the meeting closed with the Society Benediction.

Mrs. M. E. Stewart, Mrs. Marie Miller and Mrs. Sylvia Slavens assisted the hostess with refreshments.

Birthday Party

Mrs. Kenneth Sanderson, entertained at her home on Saturday afternoon, with a party honoring the eighth birthday of her son Michael, which was March 31st.

Games were played by the young guests with prizes going to Don Cox, Lowell Cooper, Gay Gard, Ray Stone, Samuel Hatmacher and Mark Fredericks after which, Michael opened his gifts from his friends.

Refreshments of ice cream and cupcakes with each child's name were served to the above mentioned guests, also the following children, Charles Sigman, Carl Mullins, Raymond Longberry, Stephen Lower, Stephen Cooper, Vicki, Stephen and Mark Sheridan, Rhonda Hidy, Patti Flanders, Nancy Glover, Hope Hatmacher, Robert Martin, Toni Whipkey, Teresa Underwood, Everett Stone, Cindy Merritt, Kenny, Johnny and Gregg Sanderson.

Dinner and Annual Inspection At Masonic Hall For OES

The sixty-third annual inspection of Royal Chapter No. 29, Order of the Eastern Star, was held Friday evening in the Masonic Temple with 93 guests and 81 members present.

The inspection was preceded by a tempting dinner prepared by the Twin Oaks Garden Club and the Golden Rule S. S. class of Good Hope and served by the men of the Eastern Star. The colors of pink and violet were carried out in the appointments of the dinner table. Nut cups were small violets on pink stars and African violets and pink candles, were used down the center of the tables.

The chapter meeting was opened with Worthy Matron Irene Thornburg and Worthy Patron Marvin Thornburg presiding in the East. Distinguished guests included Marie L. Hamilton, past grand matron; William R. Owen, past grand patron; Marjorie Kuntzman, deputy grand matron; Clara Wilkinson, grand representative of the District of Columbia; Lucille Butler, grand representative of Oklahoma; Nell Hughes, grand representative of Utah; Charles Wallace, worshipful master of Bloomingburg Lodge, F and A. M.; Dennis Hawk, illustrious master of Fayette Council No. 100; 10 visiting worthy patrons; five visiting worthy patrons; 18 past matrons and seven past patrons of Royal Chapter; Virginia Moats, district treasurer. Each group was graciously greeted by the worthy matron with an appropriate Bible verse. Other guests were from Circleville, Dayton, Pataskala, Williamsport, Frankfort, Greenfield, Jeffersonville, New Holland, Bethel, Waverly, Adelphi, Seville, New Vienna, Columbus, Clarksville, Kingston, Bainbridge and Wilmington.

The degrees were impressively exemplified by the officers for two candidates. Glendine Kelly was soloist for the ceremony. The inspecting officer, Marjorie Kuntzman, deputy grand matron of District 23, gave an excellent report and commended the chapter members for their many projects and good works. Following the report she gave a short talk on "The Crosses We Must Bear" and closed with a poem.

Worthy Matron Irene Thornburg then pointed out that March 29, 1894, was the date the Royal Chapter was instituted. Since there are no living charter members, she commemorated Eva J. Penn, past grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Ohio in 1912.

This charter member served the Grand Chapter on different committees and holding various offices from 1895 until 1931, she was a loyal member until her passing on May 29, 1938. Eva J. Penn's picture, Grand Chapter ritual and other mementoes were displayed in the banquet room with Past Patron Ralph Penn and Sister Maude Penn answering questions.

After a closing Bible thought by Worthy Patron Marvin Thornburg, Past Grand Patron William Owen gave the farewell, and Royal Chapter was closed in ritualistic form. Members and guests were invited to the banquet room for punch and cookies, where the lace covered table was centered with a star filled with wood violets and a pink candle at each point. Sister Ethel Stewardson, president of the Past Matrons Circle and Sister Helen Flee, junior past matron, served.

After a miscellaneous bridal shower was given for Mrs. Max E. Forsythe (nee Marjorie McBrayer) by her mother, Mrs. Edward A. Grimmer and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Buell McBrayer, on Sunday.

Decorations of pink and white streamers were hung from the chandelier and attached to the mantel also two white bells were hung from the chandelier.

Mrs. Edward Grimmer received a prize for making the most words out of the word marriage, Mrs. Ralph Forsythe also received a prize for another contest.

After Mrs. Max Forsythe had graciously responded for her many gifts, refreshments were served to the following guests, Mrs. Ralph Forsythe (mother-in-law), Miss Lucy Southworth, Miss Irma Rogers, Miss Carolyn Wilhelm, Miss Sylvia Robinett, Miss Pam Forsythe, Mrs. Harold Stewart, Mrs. Melinda Simmons, Mrs. Leona Tillett, Mrs. Logan Buzick, Mrs. Chester Hamulack, Mrs. Robert Whitaker, Mrs. Charles Forsythe and Miss Denise McBrayer.

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am an Irish girl, 25, in this country five years. Always I have been told I am very attractive, with lots of sex appeal—in fact too much, as this is my trouble.

At present I am very bored and fed-up with myself, and not in love with anyone. When I first arrived here I started dating and having a gay time, and met lots of boys and had many romances, but never fell in love and never went steady—just drifted from one boy to another.

Many boys have said they liked me (what they meant, I don't know) and we never did anything wrong. Then, as all my friends began to marry, I felt lonely and blue. And when a French boy came along—who fell in love with me, I know—we started an affair. Finally I got bored and gave him up.

The worst of it is, I peck a lot since then and just don't care—thinking I can hold on to a boy. My girl friend says she got her husband that way, and they dearly love each other. Now I have a boy friend—away from here—to whom I write, and he just likes to date and kiss goodnight. He says he loves me, but I don't love him. Yet if I were to marry him, I might get all of this out of my mind.

I wish never to do wrong again, but I am too easy, especially with boys I don't expect to see again. I am afraid to admit to myself that I am a bad girl; but what does a girl do?

I never had any real love at home, as my mother died when I was quite young. Will I ever fall in love? Should I try to meet somebody new and make him love me?

G. N.

DEAR G. N.: You haven't known love as yet, because inwardly you are too hostile against humankind, and too self despising—as a result of negative rearing—to have an outgoing hospitable interest in individuals: in their life history, personality or elfare. In a word, you are frigid.

Being frigid and socially adrift in a new environment, not anchored to anybody, it follows that you might feel isolated and blue, and acutely threatened by a sense of unreality at times. To escape this awful feeling, to bridge the gulf between yourself and others, you would anxiously tolerate physical contact, even physical intimacy without love-content (hence without meaning)—as a substitute for the psychological relatedness that is missing.

From the psychiatric view, this is an understandable mistake; and it is the story of countless thousands of frigid neurotics, who get plessly entangled with wrong associates—and miss the road to health and happiness—while groping for help that they can't design.

You aren't bad in the real sense of electing evil for its own sake, as versus good. Rather you are simply "going from bad to worse," for lack of guidance and righteous help in being a woman. And your shabby unsatisfactory romancing is not so much the problem that needs attention, as it is a symptom of deep distraction.

You must have first-hand help—which fortunately is freely available, through pastoral clinics in the leading churches in your city; also through Family Service units there.

A Change Needed

FARMER CITY, Ill. (AP)—Horse and buggy traffic laws still prevail in this country town and patrolman O. W. Reinke wants 'em changed.

The 1915 traffic ordinance set fines at not less than $3 and not more than $50 with collections going to the county treasury. He asks the city council to fix it so traffic fines would be from $1 to $100 and held in the city treasury.

The old law set the speed limit when rounding a corner at six miles an hour, and vehicles moving slowly must keep close to the curb to allow free passage for faster moving vehicles.

Brownie after All

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Nine-year-old Robin Richter suffered a broken ankle the afternoon before she was to wear her Brownie Scout uniform and pin the first time, she was in tears.

Her parents put her in the car and took her to the meeting. Two chairs were put together to form a couch and she read the troop history, and took the pledge. Then all troop members autographed the cast on her ankle.

CELEBRATING BRANDENBURG'S SILVER ANNIVERSARY

1957 marks our 25th year as your Chevrolet-Buick Dealer. We are proud of our progress and achievement during that period. At the same time we humbly realize that we owe any progress we have made to all you fine folks, our friends and customers.

Thinking back over the past twenty-five years, we remember vividly many changes that have taken place. When we started in 1928 a new Chevrolet Tudor sold for $610.00 including all taxes and maybe a spare tire and bumpers. Today the Federal and State taxes on the same Chevrolet are about as much as the car sold for in 1928.

We began in Sabina, Ohio, with one mechanic, my brother Frank and myself. In 1929 we hired a bookkeeper, a kid just out of school, named Beatrice Hartley. The same girl now Mrs. Beatrice Stewart is our head accountant.

When we came to Washington C. H. in 1932 we had ten employees. We have expanded until we now have thirty-five employees.

We have never missed a payroll during the past twenty-five years and feel that this payroll has contributed at least in a small way to the progress of our city.

It's been a grand experience to live in and be a part of the community, to raise our kids, attend our church, work with the Chamber of Commerce, attend the Rotary Club, raise a few Herefords, help promote our Fayette County Fair and the thousand and one other things any good citizen should do for the privilege of living in a fine city and county such as ours.

But the greatest of all is just to be associated and rub elbows with our customers, our neighbors and friends.

We and our entire family are proud and happy to live in such a grand community. Again we thank all our customers for the business given us the past twenty-five years and we shall do our utmost to merit your continued patronage in the future.

Sincerely,
Ray Brandenburg

CELEBRATING BRANDENBURG'S SILVER ANNIVERSARY

1957 marks our 25th year as your Chevrolet-Buick Dealer. We are proud of our progress and achievement during that period. At the same time we humbly realize that we owe any progress we have made to all you fine folks, our friends and customers.

Thinking back over the past twenty-five years, we remember vividly many changes that have taken place. When we started in 1928 a new Chevrolet Tudor sold for $610.00 including all taxes and maybe a spare tire and bumpers. Today the Federal and State taxes on the same Chevrolet are about as much as the car sold for in 1928.

We began in Sabina, Ohio, with one mechanic, my brother Frank and myself. In 1929 we hired a bookkeeper, a kid just out of school, named Beatrice Hartley. The same girl now Mrs. Beatrice Stewart is our head accountant.

When we came to Washington C. H. in 1932 we had ten employees. We have expanded until we now have thirty-five employees.

We have never missed a payroll during the past twenty-five years and feel that this payroll has contributed at least in a small way to the progress of our city.

It's been a grand experience to live in and be a part of the community, to raise our kids, attend our church, work with the Chamber of Commerce, attend the Rotary Club, raise a few Herefords, help promote our Fayette County Fair and the thousand and one other things any good citizen should do for the privilege of living in a fine city and county such as ours.

But the greatest of all is just to be associated and rub elbows with our customers, our neighbors and friends.

We and our entire family are proud and happy to live in such a grand community. Again we thank all our customers for the business given us the past twenty-five years and we shall do our utmost to merit your continued patronage in the future.

Sincerely,
Ray Brandenburg

JACK SMITH is our parts manager. Been with us ten years and really knows his parts. He is ably assisted by Clarence Hackett, with six years service.

AT YOUR SERVICE
DAY AND NIGHT

LEROY BENNETT
"Ben" (as everyone calls him) in addition to being our ale-mite specialist handles day & night wrecker calls.

We are proud to announce that the total years of service of our entire personnel is considerably over two hundred years. This averages over seven years per employee.

The office is managed by Mrs. Beatrice Stewart assisted by Peg Overly. Bea, as she is called, is our oldest employee in point of service.

Second Quarter Data Show Dollar Volume Continuing Gains

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Business enters the second quarter of the year today holding pretty close to its predicted course.

The first three months followed expectations—dollar volume gaining, unit volume mostly just breaking even. The three months ahead, according to the timetable, should be fairly comfortable — if unexciting.

In many ways, leveling off is one of the hardest things for most businessmen to take. The American tradition is for each month to top the like month a year ago. But a sideways drift — at a high level — is what most seem to see for the April, May and June quarter.

This won't be uniform across the nation or for the many different lines of business, though. Adding it all up, the second quarter is expected to come out as a whole about equal with the first, and with the same three months last year.

The outlook for the upcoming three months is based on the fairly even balance of the strong and weak parts of the economy making for the current stability, plus the absence so far of any factor likely to give business much of a prod upward.

Industrial production has been holding about level, and just under the record high. Where there have been declines, offsetting gains elsewhere, it notably has

Boy Chemist, 14, Injured in Blast

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Danny DeGeare, 14, is recovering today from an explosion in his home laboratory.

Danny told police he was mixing chemicals with home-made gunpowder "to see what would happen." His test tube blew up, cutting the lad's face and hands.

The father, Jesse DeGeare, said Danny has a straight A average in his eighth grade studies with the exception of chemistry in which he made a C.

been in industries whose customers are trimming inventories. In the case of steel and some other metals this paring of stocks by manufacturers is expected to be about over in the next month or so.

Retail trade is holding just about level with last year — department store sales, for example, are a slim one per cent above a year ago. Personal incomes stay high, on balance — higher pay for some about cancelling out shorter work weeks for others. And employment gains in some segments of the economy have topped layoffs in an increasing number of factories. Consumer spending thus stays high over-all, even if it has disappointed some merchants by not continuing to rise.

Spring apparently is late this year for the auto and home building industries.

But slowness in the auto and home building industries have been balanced fairly well by modest gains in capital goods spending by many industries for plant and equipment and by a steadily increasing expenditure at the various levels of government. The economy drive in Congress might affect this in the future but hardly in the next three months.

Westinghouse Cuts Back to 4-Day Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s major appliance plant here begins operating on a four-day week today to cut expenses.

A plant spokesman said the curtailment in production will continue "until general market conditions warrant a return to a five-day week."

Westinghouse also said an additional 300 production employees at its Mansfield plant will be "furloughed" beginning Thursday. A spokesman said this would bring to a total of 965 employees who have been laid off there temporarily since March 4.

In Columbus, the company manufactures refrigerators, freezers, dishwashers and combination washer-dryers. The Mansfield plant makes automatic washers, clothes dryers, electric ranges, irons, toasters, roasters, fry pans and other non-motorized portable appliances.

The company said the layoffs and four-day week were necessitated by over-production.

Bootlegger Given Plenty of Help

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Melvin Lavern Harmon, 21-year-old Tulsa bootlegger, had lots of help when his car collided with a truck here.

Officers said they found 25 fifths and 5 pints of liquor in his car when they arrived at the scene but declared Harmon had given away that much to bystanders.

Oklahoma is dry. Harmon pleaded guilty to a whisky possession charge and was fined $75.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

While walking along Court St. recently the sudden loud neigh of a horse in a passing van attracted about as much attention as if two autos had crashed head-on.

Two or three youngsters, who probably had never heard the sound looked about inquiringly, and one exclaimed:

"What was that?"

Several persons smiled and exchanged remarks, one declaring that it sounded like 30 years ago, and another said "It's the first time I have heard a horse neigh for several years."

That shows just how rare the horse is becoming even in this farming area where horsepower was formerly the main motive power used.

PIGEONS FRIGHTENED

Twice in recent weeks when a jet plane crashed the sound barrier and I have been up street, I have noticed the instant flight of every pigeon from the Courthouse, Masonic Temple Building and other places where the birds, several hundred strong, have been in the habit of congregating and roosting.

Even when the birds circled for a short time and returned to their perches they appeared uneasy and moved about for sometime before becoming quiet once more.

Those sound barrier booms have one good result, even if it is more or less momentarily.

COURTHOUSE LAWN

The Courthouse lawn was not always the beautiful terraced area that it has been since the present Courthouse was erected in 1884, or 73 years ago.

As a matter of fact when the first two courthouses stood on the tract, it extended northward to the line of the alley, and the remainder of the lot, according to information handed down through some of the older families, was largely occupied by frame residence properties.

In fact the lawn originally had a sizeable mudhole, duck pond or hog wallow on the northern part of it, and it was about level with Market St.

It is related in early histories that some of the evil-doers, such as wife beaters and habitual "soaks" were dunked in the muddy duckpond on the Courthouse lawn while many people stood by and razed the offenders.

The "cure" was said to be more effective than a term in jail or fine of several dollars.

Then, again, when the first Courthouse was built and opened in 1814, or 133 years ago, the clay removed for the foundation was used in burning brick for building.

The original building was without wings, such as later constructed, and stood 20 feet back from Court

St. and about 20 feet west of the alley bounding the lawn on the east.

The original lot or lawn sloped back from Court St. to the Market St. level, and part of Market St. originally was an open ditch, or drain, which carried much water from the wet lands farther eastward.

When it was decided to erect a Courthouse in keeping with the county, and the present structure was planned, hundreds of wagons loaded of earth were hauled and the lawn, which was extended to Market St., was filled to a depth of some four or five feet on the northern part, leveling it up with the lawn as it is on the Court St. side.

It was necessary to build retaining walls for the new courthouse lawn, on the east, west and north sides.

FOURTY YEARS AGO

It was 40 years ago this week, back in 1917, that the United States declared war on Germany, and this nation formally entered the first world war, after many American vessels had been torpedoed

Columbusite Gets Big Bill on Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has billed Frederick E. Jones, a Columbus, Ohio, insurance executive, for $147,987.29 in claimed back income taxes.

This was disclosed today in Jones' petition to the U. S. Tax Court disputing at least $15,000 of this amount.

It is the contention of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that Jones, from 1932 through 1955, took deductions on his returns that were incorrect. No question of fraud is involved.

In addition, IRS said Jones failed to report certain income, including $5,408 in dividends from the Jackson Iron & Steel Co.

Too Much 'Fun'

TOLEDO (AP)—After a 90-mile an hour chase by police, 18-year-old Bernard Burdaz stopped his auto and surrendered Sunday. A 16-year-old companion was found unconscious beside Burdaz. He had fainted from the excitement.

Boy Admits Killing 4 Of His Family

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—"How are they? Are they going to live?" Chief of Detectives Verne Starmer answered the telephone at the Ossie Woolridge home.

Woolridge, 57-year-old plumbing and heating installer, was dead. So was Mrs. Woolridge, 45; DeLores, 11, youngest of their two daughters; and Paul, 6, youngest of their four sons. Doris, 12, was shot through the neck and side, critically wounded.

"You better give yourself up," Starmer told the voice on the phone—a "Mr. Smith." It was a young voice.

So the police picked up 14-year-old Daniel Woolridge at a theater where remorse had overtaken him as he watched a detective thriller.

Prosecutor Frank Connett Jr. said the sobbing boy signed a statement saying he "suddenly went crazy."

A quiet Sunday dinner at the Woolridge home, after Sunday school at the Riverside Presbyterian Church, had erupted in a fuss between Daniel and his parents.

Daniel wanted to go for a ride. His father said it was too cold. Daniel stormed out of the house but returned in a few minutes. He asked his mother to give back the hunting knife she had taken away from him. She had thrown it away.

Daniel sat down for a moment. Then he got a pump action .22 rifle and started his carnage.

People... Places... and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
While walking along Court St. recently the sudden loud neigh of a horse in a passing van attracted about as much attention as if two autos had crashed head-on.

Two or three youngsters, who probably had never heard the sound looked about inquiringly, and one exclaimed:

"What was that?"
Several persons smiled and exchanged remarks, one declaring that it sounded like 30 years ago, and another said "It's the first time I have heard a horse neigh for several years."

That shows just how rare the horse is becoming even in this farming area where horsepower was formerly the main motive power used.

PIGEONS FRIGHTENED

Twice in recent weeks when a jet plane crashed the sound barrier and I have been up street, I have noticed the instant flight of every pigeon from the Courthouse, Masonic Temple Building and other places where the birds, several hundred strong, have been in the habit of congregating and roosting.

Even when the birds circled for a short time and returned to their perches they appeared uneasy and moved about for sometime before becoming quiet once more.

Those sound barrier booms have one good result, even if it is more or less momentarily.

COURTHOUSE LAWN

The Courthouse lawn was not always the beautiful terraced area that it has been since the present Courthouse was erected in 1884, or 73 years ago.

As a matter of fact when the first two courthouses stood on the tract, it extended northward to the line of the alley, and the remainder of the lot, according to information handed down through some of the older families, was largely occupied by frame residence properties.

In fact the lawn originally had a sizeable mudhole, duck pond or hog wallow on the northern part of it, and it was about level with Market St.

It is related in early histories that some of the evil-doers, such as wife beaters and habitual "soaks" were dunked in the muddy duckpond on the Courthouse lawn while many people stood by and razed the offenders.

The "cure" was said to be more effective than a term in jail or fine of several dollars.

Then, again, when the first Courthouse was built and opened in 1814, or 133 years ago, the clay removed for the foundation was used in burning brick for building.

The original building was without wings, such as later constructed, and stood 20 feet back from Court

St. and about 20 feet west of the alley bounding the lawn on the east.

The original lot or lawn sloped back from Court St. to the Market St. level, and part of Market St. originally was an open ditch, or drain, which carried much water from the wet lands farther eastward.

When it was decided to erect a Courthouse in keeping with the county, and the present structure was planned, hundreds of wagons loaded of earth were hauled and the lawn, which was extended to Market St., was filled to a depth of some four or five feet on the northern part, leveling it up with the lawn as it is on the Court St. side.

It was necessary to build retaining walls for the new courthouse lawn, on the east, west and north sides.

FORTY YEARS AGO

It was 40 years ago this week, back in 1917, that the United States declared war on Germany, and this nation formally entered the first world war, after many American vessels had been torpedoed

Columbusite Gets Big Bill on Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has billed Frederick E. Jones, a Columbus, Ohio, insurance executive, for $147,987.29 in claimed back income taxes.

This was disclosed today in Jones' petition to the U. S. Tax Court disputing at least $15,000 of this amount.

It is the contention of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that Jones, from 1952 through 1955, took deductions on his returns that were incorrect. No question of fraud is involved.

In addition, IRS said Jones failed to report certain income, including $5,408 in dividends from the Jackson Iron & Steel Co.

Too Much 'Fun'

Boy Admits Killing 4 Of His Family

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—"How are they? Are they going to live?"

Chief of Detectives Verne Starmer answered the telephone at the Ossie Woolridge home.

Woolridge, 57-year-old plumbing and heating installer, was dead. So was Mrs. Woolridge, 45; DeLores, 11, youngest of their two daughters; and Paul, 6, youngest of their four sons. Doris, 12, was shot through the neck and side, critically wounded.

"You better give yourself up," Starmer told the voice on the phone—a "Mr. Smith." It was a young voice.

So the police picked up 14-year-old Daniel Woolridge at a theater where remorse had overtaken him as he watched a detective thriller.

Prosecutor Frank Connett Jr. said the sobbing boy signed a statement saying he "suddenly went crazy."

A quiet Sunday dinner at the Woolridge home, after Sunday school at the Riverside Presbyterian Church, had erupted in a fuss between Daniel and his parents.

Daniel wanted to go for a ride. His father said it was too cold. Daniel stormed out of the house but returned in a few minutes. He asked his mother to give back the hunting knife she had taken away from him. She had thrown it away.

Daniel sat down for a moment. Then he got a pump action .22 rifle and started his carnage.

He also said his wife's poor health led him to his decision. Paul, who earns $9,000 a year in the post, has been sheriff for 10 years. No successor has been named.

Oddball Baseball Is Noted on April Fools Day

'56 7th-Place Bucs Stand at Top of This Year's Prep Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It's April Fool's Day and, appropriately enough, strange things are happening in major league baseball.

The seventh-place National League team of 1956 has the best exhibition record of 1957. The perfect World Series game pitcher is getting clobbered. A Chicago Cubs' first baseman hits a home run, then is returned to the minors after only three days with the big league club.

The Pittsburgh Pirates (13-6) moved to the top of the exhibition standings Sunday when Bobby Friend pitched five-hit ball over the nine inning route to down the St. Louis Cardinals 5-1. Bill Virdon, with three hits, and Ramon Mejias and Dick Ranney, with a couple each, paced the winners.

Don Larsen was the winning pitcher as the New York Yankees trounced the Kansas City A's 7-3. He has yielded 5 runs and 20 hits in 15 spring training innings. Joe Collins homered for the Yanks. Vic Power of the A's had a 4-for-4 day, including a fur-bagger.

The Philadelphia Phillies lost 3-1 to Cincinnati and also nearly lost the services of Willie Jones, their veteran third baseman. Willie was hit on the forehead by a ball thrown by Redleg shortstop Alex Grammas, who was attempting to complete a double play. Jones is one of the few major leaguers who wears a plastic helmet while on the base paths, so he'll be sidelined only for a few days.

Behind the two-hit hurling of rookie Dick Drott, the Cubs edged the New York Giants 3-2. Both Giant runs came as a result of home runs, by Gail Harris and Dusty Rhodes.

Later the Cubs announced the acquisition of first baseman Ed Mickelson from Portland of the Pacific Coast League. In return, Chicago gave up Joe Macko, George Freese, a third baseman, and cash.

Macko was brought up from Los Angeles last Thursday. He hit a home run in his first game.

Cleveland and Boston share the exhibition lead among American League clubs with 11-9 records.

The Indians walloped the Baltimore Orioles 8-3 behind the solid pitching of Bob Lemon and Hank Aguirre. Rookie outfielder Roger Maris and veteran catcher Jim Hegan homered for the Tribe.

Jackie Jensen's three-run homer was the Red Sox's margin of victory over New Orleans of the Southern Assn. Bob Porterfield, Dick Sisler and Ike Delock combined for the 3-0 decision.

In other games, the Milwaukee Braves blew a 7-0 lead, then came on to nip the Washington Senators 8-7 on Felix Mantilla's 12th inning homer; the Chicago White Sox drubbed the Brooklyn Dodgers 7-1 on the combined three-hit hurling of Dick Donovan and Jim Wilson; and Charleston of the American Assn. knocked off the parent Detroit Tigers 8-2. Most of the Tiger regulars had the day off.

Palmer Collects Purse at Azalea

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Although he outshot only four of the 24 other money winners in the Azalea Open Golf Tournament's final round, Arnold Palmer's 54-hole lead stood up and he eased out with a one-stroke victory that added $1,700 to his earnings.

The 27-year-old Latrobe, Pa., professional finished Sunday with a back-lustre 75, three over par on the 6,800-yard Cape Fear Country Club course, but it was good enough for a winning 282 total, one shot less than runnerup Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, needed in winning $1,700 second money.

Pancho Gonzales To Quit Net Tour

MONTREAL (AP) — Big Pancho Gonzales, king of professional tennis, will quit Jack Kramer's professional troupe after its last American match May 26.

Plagued by a cyst on his racket hand, Gonzales, who has taken on and licked all comers since he began playing for Kramer, said:

"I need a rest. I've been playing continuously for 18 months and I want to give my hand a chance to heal."

He is leading Ken Rosewall 28-12 in their 100-match series. But the series won't go that long. Thirty more, and Gonzales is pulling out.

Good Neighbor at 90

MANGUM, Okla. (AP) — When Mrs. P. J. Boyle found out her neighbor, Mrs. John Swoboda was in the hospital, she went over to her house to help out.

For the five days she washed the dishes, made the beds and kept the house straightened.

It was an extra act of neighborliness—Mrs. Boyle is 90 years of age.

Celtics, Hawks Tied in Series For Pro Title

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics and St. Louis Hawks, tied in their final National Basketball Assn. playoff series, today wondered which team will be hurt the most by a five-day layoff.

The player aren't saying much but there was a feeling after the Celtics knotted the best-of-seven competition 1-1 Sunday that nobody liked it.

The third game will be in St. Louis Saturday night and the fourth Sunday.

After losing a 125-123 double overtime verdict Saturday, the Celtics ran away from St. Louis 119-99 Sunday.

Boston guard Bill Sharman explained the difference in the two games:

"That long layoff from game competition since last Sunday threw us off Saturday. It threw us off on our timing."

"We have another layoff this week before our two games at St. Louis and you can be sure the players don't like it. They're trying to make a major league out of the NBA but they're certain running it bush league."

Hawks' coach Alex Hannum was far from disappointed at the outcome of the game.

"We wanted one win in the two games here and we got it," Hannum said.

The tight Boston defense was geared especially for scoring ace Bob Pettit and fiery guard Slater Martin. Pettit, who had tallied 37 the first game, was held to 11 points by Jim Loscutoff. Martin dropped from 23 to eight points with Bob Cousy guarding him.

Baker Is Favored To Trim German

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Baker, veteran Pittsburgh heavyweight contender, is favored over Germany's Willi Besmanoff in the 10-round feature at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

Besmanoff, 24, a 190-pounder, has won 12 straight but has met no one near Baker's class. A win over the 6-2, 210-pound Baker could move the German into the top flight. Besmanoff's record is 34-6-7, Baker's 47-8-1.

Gen. Duke Tagged As Derby Favorite

MIAMI (AP) — General Duke from Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm has established himself as the favorite for the Kentucky Derby in a race run so fast that all five entries beat the track record.

The brown son of Bull Lea, with Willie Hartack handling the reins, hit the finish line in 1:46.2 to equal the world record in the $123,600 Florida Derby Saturday.

Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler, the favorite on the basis of his nose triumph over Gen. Duke in the recent Flamingo, trailed by 1 1/4 lengths after giving way to the Calumet ace in the stretch. And Iron Liege, another Calumet Kentucky Derby eligible, was just a head back of the Ruler.

Airmen Cop Title In AAU Tourney

DENVER (AP) — Two former collegians now in uniform, Stanford's Ron Tomsie and St. Louis' Dick Boushka, can take much of the credit today for the first National AAU basketball crown won by the Air Force.

The 1956 U. S. Olympic teammates powered the Air Force All-Stars to an 87-74 triumph over the San Francisco Olympic club and the title Saturday night.

Third place in the 50th annual tourney went to Peoria, a member of the National Industrial Basketball League, with a 76-71 win over the defending champion Seattle Bakers.

Milwaukee Manager Decides '56 Team Can Win in '57

Editor's Note: Here is another in a series of articles appraising the 1957 major league baseball teams.

By JOE REICHLER

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves have decided to stand pat because Manager Fred Haney is convinced the same hands who frittered away the pennant last year will win it this year.

Not many will agree with standpat Fred because the usual procedure for a defeated club is to try to strengthen its weakest hand.

"I honestly believe this team can win the pennant the way it stands right now," Haney said. "Remember, none of our men had a really big year last season...and I include Henry Aaron. Even if he did lead the league, he has to be better than the .328 hitter he was last year. Aaron is the best hitter in the league—yes, better than Willie Mays—and he is capable of hitting .350 or .360."

"The point I'm trying to make is that when a team wins a pennant, most of its keymen got hot altogether. We lost the pennant by only one game and we didn't have one man who had an exceptional year, in fact, four men had below average years."

Haney identified Bobby Thomson, Danny O'Connell, Eddie Mathews and Del Crandall as the four whose performance for the club to make his prediction look good. "If those four guys have their average year in '57, Aaron hits the way I know he can, and Joe Adcock, Johnny Logan and Bill Bruton have the same kind of year as their last one, we'll pick up enough games to win it."

Haney found no fault with his pitching. "I'm not saying we have the best staff in the league," was the way he put it, "but I feel almost certain we have the deepest. I have seven starters — Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Bob Buhl, Gene Conley, Ray Crone, Bob Trowbridge and Taylor Phillips."

"I've got too many pitchers and my toughest job is to cut down to 10."

It is Haney's plan to hit Aaron in second place this year behind leadoff batter O'Connell and follow then with Mathews and Adcock, who walloped 75 home runs between them.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians leave their training camp here today for a 12-game road trip with the New York Giants which begins in Las Vegas, Nev., Tuesday and ends in Knoxville, Tenn., April 13.

So far, the Tribe has drawn 81,601 fans in 20 exhibition games, with 24,362 fans turning out at games here.

With 13 games left on the training schedule (their final game is with the Braves at Milwaukee) the Indians should easily meet springtime expenses.

Rookie outfielder Roger Maris accounted for three of the Indians' eight runs as the Tribe defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 8-3, here Sunday.

Maris homered with Bob Usher on base in the first inning and singled another run home in the sixth. When the Orioles' Bob Nieman singled off the wall in the sixth, Maris made an outstanding recovery of the ball and threw Nieman out as he tried to take second.

The Indians' hitting attack, which has become formidable after limping through the first part of the training season, included a home run by catcher Jim Hegan, a triple by Sam Mele and a double by Joe Altobelli. In all, the Tribe collected 10 hits off pitchers Ray Moore and Erv Palica.

Bob Lemon and Hank Aguirre limited the Orioles to only three hits, with Aguirre retiring the nine batters who faced him in order.

Billy Meyer, 65, Dies in Knoxville

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Death has claimed baseball's William Adam (Billy) Meyer, major league "manager of the year" with the underdog Pittsburgh Pirates in 1948. He died in a hospital Sunday.

The 65-year-old veteran of 46 years as player, manager, scout, and "trouble shooter" died of a heart and kidney ailment after a prolonged illness. He retired in 1955 after a stroke left him partly paralyzed in the left side.

Recommended for the treatment of various forms of stomach trouble and attendant ills such as fermentation of food gas on stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn, bad breath, constipation, etc.

Single Pin Needed To Tie ABC Lead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A little guy from Milwaukee stole the spotlight Sunday in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Moe Miller, 26, one of the smallest bowlers in the big time ranks at 5-6 and 115 pounds, moved into second place in the singles standings, missing by a single pin a tie for the lead.

He shot a 3-game total of 707 on games of 205, 234 and 268. Miller missed the 6 pin in his 10th frame, foiling his chance to overtake Dean Overholser of Chicago. Overholser holds the singles lead with his 708 posted March 17.

Training Camp Briefs

By The Associated Press
MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Dick Drott, a 20-year-old righthander not even listed on the roster, is the first Chicago Cub pitcher to hurl nine innings this year.

Drott pitched the route against his "cousin" New York Giants Sunday in a masterful 3-2 victory. Drott gave up two hits, both of them homers — one by Gail Harris and the other by Dusty Rhodes.

The feat marked 23 innings in which Drott has pitched against the Giants this spring and has allowed only two runs.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Southpaw Billy Pierce, Chicago White Sox ace who has had nothing but troubles this spring, will try to go more than three innings today against the Philadelphia Phils.

Pierce has been whacked hard in all but one appearance this year and that was a week ago Sunday when he retired the first eight Cincinnati Redlegs to face him before giving up two hits and a run.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The Boston Red Sox apparently aren't

destined to pull a trade with Cleveland.

Manager Mike Higgins was told the Tribe's Kirby Farrell has shown interest in promising young Sox outfielder Marty Keough.

Higgins said Cleveland could have Keough for their ace southpaw relief pitcher Don Mossi. There's almost no danger of that.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — An old fashioned complaint, a touch of lumbago, has forced pitcher Bobby Buhl to take it easy for a few days.

However Buhl, 1956 nemesis of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is expected to be ready to pitch against the National League champions when the Braves and the Dodgers meet at Jacksonville, Wednesday.

The Pittsburgh Pirates (13-6) moved to the top of the exhibition standings Sunday when Bobby Friend pitched five-hit ball over the nine inning route to down the St. Louis Cardinals 5-1. Bill Virdon, with three hits, and Ramon Mejias and Dick Han, with a couple each, paced the winners.

Don Larsen was the winning pitcher as the New York Yankees trounced the Kansas City A's 7-3. He has yielded 5 runs and 20 hits in 15 spring training innings. Joe Collins homered for the Yanks. Vic Power of the A's had a 4-for-4 day, including a fur-bagger.

The Philadelphia Phillies lost 3-1 to Cincinnati and also nearly lost the services of Willie Jones, their veteran third baseman. Willie was hit on the forehead by a ball thrown by Redleg shortstop Alex Grammas, who was attempting to complete a double play. Jones is one of the few major leaguers who wears a plastic helmet while on the base paths, so he'll be sidelined only for a few days.

Behind the two-hit hurling of rookie Dick Drott, the Cubs edged the New York Giants 3-2. Both Giant runs came as a result of home runs, by Gail Harris and Dusty Rhodes.

Later the Cubs announced the acquisition of first baseman Ed Mickelson from Portland of the Pacific Coast League. In return, Chicago gave up Joe Macko, George Freese, a third baseman, and cash.

Macko was brought up from Los Angeles last Thursday. He hit a home run in his first game.

Cleveland and Boston share the exhibition lead among American League clubs with 11-9 records.

The Indians walloped the Baltimore Orioles 8-3 behind the solid pitching of Bob Lemon and Hank Aguirre. Rookie outfielder Roger Maris and veteran catcher Jim Hegan homered for the Tribe.

Jackie Jensen's three-run homer was the Red Sox's margin of victory over New Orleans of the Southern Assn. Bob Porterfield, Dick Sisler and Ike Delock combined for the 3-0 decision.

In other games, the Milwaukee Braves blew a 7-0 lead, then came on to nip the Washington Senators 8-7 on Felix Mantilla's 12th inning homer; the Chicago White Sox drubbed the Brooklyn Dodgers 7-1 on the combined three-hit hurling of Dick Donovan and Jim Wilson; and Charleston of the American Assn. knocked off the parent Detroit Tigers 8-2. Most of the Tiger regulars had the day off.

Palmer Collects Purse at Azalea

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Although he outshot only four of the 24 other money winners in the Azalea Open Golf Tournament's final round, Arnold Palmer's 54-hole lead stood up and he eased out with a one-stroke victory that added $1,700 to his earnings.

The 27-year-old Latrobe, Pa., professional finished Sunday with a back-lustre 75, three over par on the 6,800-yard Cape Fear Country Club course, but it was good enough for a winning 282 total, one shot less than runnerup Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, needed in winning $1,700 second money.

Pancho Gonzales To Quit Net Tour

MONTREAL (AP)—Big Pancho Gonzales, king of professional tennis, will quit Jack Kramer's professional troupe after its last American match May 26.

Plagued by a cyst on his racket hand, Gonzales, who has taken on and licked all comers since he began playing for Kramer, said:

"I need a rest. I've been playing continuously for 18 months and I want to give my hand a chance to heal."

He is leading Ken Rosewall 28-12 in their 100-match series. But the series won't go that long. Thirty more, and Gonzales is pulling out.

Good Neighbor at 90

MANGUM, Okla. (AP)—When Mrs. P. J. Boyle found out her neighbor, Mrs. John Swoboda was in the hospital, she went over to her house to help out.

For the five days she washed the dishes, made the beds and kept the house straightened.

It was an extra act of neighborliness—Mrs. Boyle is 90 years of age.

Celtics, Hawks Tied in Series For Pro Title

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Celtics and St. Louis Hawks, tied in their final National Basketball Assn. playoff series today, wondered which team will be hurt the most by a five-day layoff.

The player aren't saying much but there was a feeling after the Celtics knotted the best-of-seven competition 1-1 Sunday that nobody liked it.

The third game will be in St. Louis Saturday night and the fourth Sunday.

After losing a 125-123 double overtime verdict Saturday, the Celtics ran away from St. Louis 119-99 Sunday.

Boston guard Bill Sharman explained the difference in the two games:

"That long layoff from game competition since last Sunday threw us off Saturday. It threw us off on our timing."

"We have another layoff this week before our two games at St. Louis and you can be sure the players don't like it. They're trying to make a major league out of the NBA but they're certain running it bush league."

Hawks' coach Alex Hannum was far from disappointed at the outcome of the game.

"We wanted one win in the two games here and we got it," Hannum said.

The tight Boston defense was geared especially for scoring ace Bob Pettit and fiery guard Slater Martin. Pettit, who had tallied 37 the first game, was held to 11 points by Jim Luscutoff. Martin dropped from 23 to eight points with Bob Cousy guarding him.

Baker Is Favored To Trim German

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Baker, veteran Pittsburgh heavyweight contender, is favored over Germany's Willi Besmanoff in the 10-round feature at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tonight.

Besmanoff, 24, a 190-pounder, has won 12 straight but has met no one near Baker's class. A win over the 6-2, 210-pound Baker could move the German into the top flight. Besmanoff's record is 34-6-7, Baker's 47-8-1.

Gen. Duke Tagged As Derby Favorite

MIAMI (AP)—General Duke from Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm has established himself as the favorite for the Kentucky Derby in a race run so fast that all five entries beat the track record.

The brown son of Bull Lea, with Willie Hartack handling the reins, hit the finish line in 1:46.2 to equal the world record in the $123,600 Florida Derby Saturday.

Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler, the favorite on the basis of his nose triumph over Gen. Duke in the recent Flamingo, trailed by 1 1/4 lengths after giving way to the Calumet ace in the stretch. And Iron Liege, another Calumet Kentucky Derby eligible, was just a head back of the Ruler.

Airmen Cop Title In AAU Tourney

DENVER (AP)—Two former collegians now in uniform, Stanford's Ron Tomsic and St. Louis' Dick Boushka, can take much of the credit today for the first National AAU basketball crown won by the Air Force.

The 1956 U. S. Olympic teammates powered the Air Force All-Stars to an 87-74 triumph over the San Francisco Olympic club and the title Saturday night.

Third place in the 50th annual tourney went to Peoria, a member of the National Industrial Basketball League, with a 76-71 win over the defending champion Seattle Bakers.

Milwaukee Manager Decides '56 Team Can Win in '57

Editor's Note: Here is another in a series of articles appraising the 1957 major league baseball teams.

By JOE REICHLER

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves have decided to stand pat because Manager Fred Haney is convinced the same hands who frittered away the pennant last year will win it this year.

Not many will agree with stand-pat Fred because the usual procedure for a defeated club is to try to strengthen its weakest hand.

"I honestly believe this team can win the pennant the way it stands right now," Haney said. "Remember, none of our men had a really big year last season...and I include Henry Aaron. Even if he did lead the league, he has to be better than the .328 hitter he was last year. Aaron is the best hitter in the league—yes, better than Willie Mays—and he is capable of hitting .350 or .360."

"The point I'm trying to make is that when a team wins a pennant, most of its keymen get hot altogether. We lost the pennant by only one game and we didn't have one man who had an exceptional year, in fact, four men had below average years."

Haney identified Bobby Thomson, Danny O'Connell, Eddie Mathews and Del Crandall as the foursome who must increase their batting average for the club to make his prediction look good.

"If those four guys have their average year in '57, Aaron hits the way I know he can, and Joe Adcock, Johnny Logan and Bill Bruton have the same kind of year as their last one, we'll pick up enough games to win it."

Haney found no fault with his pitching.

"I'm not saying we have the best staff in the league," was the way he put it, "but I feel almost certain we have the deepest. I have seven starters—Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Bob Buhl, Gene Conley, Ray Crone, Bob Trowbridge and Taylor Phillips."

"I've got too many pitchers and my toughest job is to cut down to 10."

It is Haney's plan to hit Aaron in second place this year behind leadoff batter O'Connell and follow then with Mathews and Adcock, who walloped 75 home runs between them.

Single Pin Needed To Tie ABC Lead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A little guy from Milwaukee stole the spotlight Sunday in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Moe Miller, 26, one of the smallest bowlers in the big time ranks at 5-6 and 115 pounds, moved into second place in the singles standings, missing by a single pin a tie for the lead.

He shot a 3-game total of 707 on games of 205, 234 and 268.

Miller missed the 6 pin in his 10th frame, foiling his chance to overtake Dean Overholser of Chicago. Overholser holds the singles lead with his 708 posted March 17.

"I'm not saying we have the best staff in the league," was the way he put it, "but I feel almost certain we have the deepest. I have seven starters—Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Bob Buhl, Gene Conley, Ray Crone, Bob Trowbridge and Taylor Phillips."

"I've got too many pitchers and my toughest job is to cut down to 10."

It is Haney's plan to hit Aaron in second place this year behind leadoff batter O'Connell and follow then with Mathews and Adcock, who walloped 75 home runs between them.

By The Associated Press

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Dick Drott, a 20-year-old righthander not even listed on the roster, is the first Chicago Cub pitcher to hurl nine innings this year.

Drott pitched the route against his "cousin" New York Giants Sunday in a masterful 3-2 victory. Drott gave up two hits, both of them homers—one by Gail Harris and the other by Dusty Rhodes.

The feat marked 23 innings in which Drott has pitched against the Giants this spring and has allowed only two runs.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Southpaw Billy Pierce, Chicago White Sox ace who has had nothing but troubles this spring, will try to go more than three innings today against the Philadelphia Phils.

Pierce has been whacked hard in all but one appearance this year and that was a week ago Sunday when he retired the first eight Cincinnati Redlegs to face him before giving up two hits and a run.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—The Boston Red Sox apparently aren't

destined to pull a trade with Cleveland.

Manager Mike Higgins was told the Tribe's Kirby Farrell has shown interest in promising young Sox outfielder Marty Keough.

Higgins said Cleveland could have Keough for their ace southpaw relief pitcher Don Mossi. There's almost no danger of that.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—An old fashioned complaint, a touch of lumbago, has forced pitcher Bobby Buhl to take it easy for a few days.

However Buhl, 1956 nemesis of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is expected to be ready to pitch against the National League champions when the Braves and the Dodgers meet at Jacksonville, Wednesday.

Geographers Meet

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Association of American Geographers started its 53rd annual conference here today with about 600 delegates scheduled to take part.

The first United States census, taken in 1790, listed 3,929,214 inhabitants.

Teamsters Union Plays Big Role In Everyday Life

WASHINGTON (AP) - Practically everything you own and use - your furniture, bread, milk, laundry, clothes, beer, even the hearth that takes you on that final ride - is handled by a member of the Teamsters Union.

It's an organization with 1 1/2 million members, mainly truck drivers and chauffeurs, but also production workers in various fields.

Nearly one out of every hundred people in the nation belongs and pays dues to the Teamsters Union.

It collects about 100 million dollars a year in dues and controls welfare funds several times that amount.

The statistics furnish an inkling of the inherent economic power of the giant labor union which, for more than a month, has been the main target of Senate racket investigators.

When James R. Hoffa, Teamsters' midwest kingpin and vice president, was arrested here on charges of bribing an investigator for the racket committee, Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said Hoffa "controls the nation's transportation system, except for railroads from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Ocean."

This left out the far west, but there Frank W. Brewster, another union vice president, wielded similar influence.

Over them, nominally at least, stands Dave Beck, the Teamsters' Union general president. Beck has refused to tell McClellan's committee under oath - invoking the Fifth Amendment - what he has proclaimed publicly away from the committee; that he borrowed some $300,000 to $400,000 in union funds, but repaid it.

The Teamsters Union has been on the American scene a long time. Originally the teamsters were all wagon drivers. But with the advent of the gasoline engine, the union began recruiting motor vehicle drivers.

The Teamsters in 1940 dropped the word "stablemen" from their title and substituted the word "warehousemen," a fast-growing field for organizing in these days of modern merchandising.

The union's exact title today: the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America.

The union grew and grew under the late President Dan Tobin, a Boston Irishman. Tobin called the shots on the old AFL council and, in frequent jurisdictional squabbles with other unions, generally won. The result was that the teamsters grabbed off jurisdiction - and members - in a lot of industries in which other unions claimed organizing rights.

Beck replaced the aging Tobin

Random Comments

BY RAY BRANDENBURG

Still got some interesting things to tell you about our Caribbean trip.

We tried something new today. Went out in a glass bottom boat and saw the most beautiful underwater sea formations of coral and various other things. Then we went snorkeling. In case you are not familiar with snorkeling (and I wasn't) you get out in the water waist deep. Then they put a rubber contraption with a glass in front of your eyes over your head. The thing has a couple of air vents sticking up above the water. Then they lay you on an inflated rubber tube. (They gave me truck size). You stick your nose in the water and they pull firm on five tubes and people fastened together around over the coral beds, and they are really beautiful. So if you want to snorkel, let me know.

We decided to visit the Citadel. This fortress was built at the extreme top of a mountain overlooking Cap-Haitien, a city on the north coast of Haiti. We left Port-au-Prince by plane and flew over the plains and mountains, 175 miles to Cap-Haitien.

Then drove by car to the foot of the mountains. From here we went by horseback and mule back (I got the mule named Fifi) up the steepest, roughest, crookedest trail I've ever rode over. They said it was four miles up and I'm sure it was that far. It took us two hours up and 1½ hours down. This fortress was built by King Christopher in 1804. It was built by slave labor and took twelve years to build. The walls are from three to five feet thick and rise some three hundred feet high. They had their brick kiln just here and used sand, sugar cane and gelatin from the bones of animals to make cement. There are probably two hundred cannon and thousands of cannon balls in the fort. Christopher built it to defeat Napoleon, but Napoleon never came, so the fort was never used. 7000 men were stationed there.

The cannon were captured from ships which came into the harbor. A lot of them were English guns made of bronze in 1534. They looked just as good now as when first built. The mystery is how such big guns and all the material was gotten up the mountainside. Anyway it's counted the 8th wonder of the world.

At the base of the mountain, Christopher built a palace for himself and his queen. It covered fifteen acres. Also a beautiful circular chapel which is still used.

When I got off Fifi at the trip's finish, I had several tender spots and they weren't all the result of sunburn. First almost shed a tear. I'm not sure whether from joy at me getting off or just because she liked me.

Incidentally a colored boy went with each rider the entire trip, and they were all barefooted.

If some American owned the Citadel, he'd be a millionaire in a year. Here they call the Donkey the Caribbean Cadillac. The place at the base of the mountain is called San Souci, which means "No Care."

So come out to Don's Auto Sales or R. Brandenburg Motor Sales and buy an American Cadillac or Olds, a Buick or Chevrolet and have "No Cares" - San Souci.

Ex-Banker Dies In Chicago in Gangster Style

Police Say $300,000
Carried by Victim
At Time of Killing

CHICAGO (AP)—Leon Marcus, a prime figure in the Orville E. Hodge scandal, carried more than $300,000 in cash and checks when he was slain, police report.

Marcus, 61, onetime majority stockholder in the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co., was put to death in gangland fashion here Sunday night.

William Touhy, deputy chief of detectives, stated that a $300,000 check made out to Marcus was found in the victim's wallet. The officer said the check was drawn on the Society National Bank of Cleveland, was dated June 28, 1956, and was signed "J. A. Herman."

Touhy said an inventory showed that Marcus also carried $2,600 in other checks and $1,640 in cash.

The last friend to see Marcus alive, Alfred Rado, said Marcus had $8,000 in cash. That would indicate that some $6,300 in cash was missing.

"THIS WASN'T robbery," Touhy commented, pointing to the cash and jewelry found on the body.

Touhy theorized that the motive for the killing may be found in the victim's financial affairs. He said he plans to question the principals in the Hodge case in an effort to find out more about Marcus' dealings.

Marcus was seized by several men after he had left the Rado home on 51st street on the South Side. He was dragged into an automobile and whisked away.

His body, with a .45 caliber bullet wound in the back of the head, was found shortly afterward in a vacant lot six blocks away.

Marcus, his brother Hyman, 50, an attorney, and Marcus' son-in-law, Martin J. Rosene, 36, were under federal indictments charging misapplication of bank funds and making false entries in bank records. They were scheduled to face trial Sept. 23.

The Southmoor bank is where former Republican State Auditor Hodge cashed more than $600,000 in fraudulent state checks.

Hodge, former Southmoor President Edward A. Hintz and Edward A. Epping, former office manager for the high state official, are serving prison terms in connection with Hodge's theft of $2 million in state funds.

The indictments against the Marcus brothers and Rosene alleged unlawful diversion of bank money from real estate loans.

RADO, OWNER of the Lavine Lumber Co., told police Marcus was leaving his apartment over the lumber firm's office after Sunday dinner. Five or six men grabbed him as he was about to enter his car. Rado said the victim shouted: "Leave me alone and I'll give you anything I got."

Marcus was thrust into a dark Chevrolet, Rado related, and the auto drove off.

Meanwhile, Rado's wife Joyce, who was upstairs, called police. Leon Marcus was named Feb. 6 along with Rado, an owner of Home Craft Construction Co., and several other firms in a $200,000 recovery suit charging "fraudulent conspiracy" in construction company loans.

The suit contended Marcus compelled Rado to turn over mortgages and property in a local housing project worth $200,000.

Knowland Opposes Barter with Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California split with the Eisenhower administration today to oppose a proposal for the barter of surplus farm commodities to Iron Curtain countries.

Knowland reported he is opposed to a provision of a pending bill, approved by President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson, which would permit the exchange with Russian satellites of food and fibers for strategic materials.

That provision is included in a bill now before the Senate which would continue and enlarge the present program for overseas disposal of surplus agricultural commodities. Present law bans trade with Iron Curtain countries.

Dulles Biographer

forced by messages instructing Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen in Moscow to make the meaning plain to the Kremlin's leaders, the President served notice on Russia that the United States would use force to prevent any such move.

Concerning the three other "brinks," Beal also wrote: 1. Eisenhower decided, returning from his 1952 Korea trip aboard the cruiser Helena, to "press for a truce; but if that failed, to fight the war to win" and to use tactical atomic weapons, blockade the China coast and bomb China mainland targets.

2. Eisenhower and Dulles decided to intervene militarily in Indochina "under certain conditions" but "the conditions were not met." These conditions were, according to Beal, that Britain, Australia and New Zealand join in, and France stay in while ridding itself "of colonial taint."

3. Eisenhower spurned a suggestion by then British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden to swap the off-China islands of Quemoy and Matsu for a Communist cease-fire agreement, then sent a "personal assurance" to Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa. This "personal letter" satisfied Chiang, Beal said, "that the United States would help defend Quemoy and Matsu."

Beal said "repeated and accumulated unfriendly gestures" by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser preceded Dulles' decision to withdraw a U. S. offer of help to build the high Aswan Dam on the Nile River.

Dulles withdrew the offer July 19 and Nasser responded a week later by seizing the Suez Canal.

Beal wrote that Dulles felt he needed a time, place and "grand-scale" opportunity to demonstrate to the world that even U. S. patience could be exhausted.

Saying Nasser had become "seemingly more and more pro-Communist," Beal wrote of events last July:

"Nasser was making it look as though the United States could be played for a sucker. For Dulles, a moment of Cold War climax had come.

"It was necessary to call Russia's hand in the game of economic competition.

"It was necessary to demonstrate to friendly nations that U. S. tolerance could not brook the kind of insult Nasser presented."

Red Cross Fund Campaign Falters

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Red Cross spokesman said today the organization's fund-raising picture is "the blackest since before World War II" because of drains of recent disasters.

A month-long fund raising drive through March brought in only 65 per cent of the $95 million the Red Cross hoped to raise.

Appeals have been made to Red Cross chapters to continue the drive to reach the goal.

Juvenile Problem

schools. That's somewhat commonly known.

Less known is a related fact: most of them could be in schools, if the schools were doing the right job. For example, a certain boy may have a lot of talent for carpentry, but no talent for English. Another may be very good at drawing, but no good at math. Or a girl may have an aptitude for home economics but none for history.

These people, Judge Brubaker said he felt, should be offered a school program whereby they can tap their talents and chuck the rest. The program wouldn't offer a regular diploma, but it would give good training, and it would keep the youngsters in school.

"After all," the judge observed, "it isn't necessary to have a broad liberal education to be a good commercial artist—even though it might help."

IF YOUNGSTERS find school attractive this way, they'll stay in. If they stay in, they'll keep busy and they'll keep learning. If they do that, they may grow up to be solid citizens, instead of prison inmates.

Besides the children who can't find the right program in school, there are others who aren't properly equipped. There are students with sight problems. There are others with hearing trouble.

Judge Brubaker said he appreciated all the efforts being made by the Lions Clubs and similar groups, aimed at remedying this situation. But, he observed, there is still room for more.

With these two groups disposed of, there are other students who just can't keep up the pace. These, Judge Brubaker said, "shouldn't be required to stay. Let them get jobs, and let the learners learn."

BEYOND the schools, the juvenile problem must be met at another, grimmer, juncture: the court. Sad to say, that's where a lot of it finally winds up.

Two things ought to be done there, Judge Brubaker feels, in order to help a salvage spiritual wrecks. They are:

—Get a trained, capable, probation officer, who can deal with the youngsters once they've been in court, trying to get them back on the track.

—Create a psychiatric center (perhaps in cooperation with neighboring counties) that can help unravel emotional problems, so common in adolescence.

Regarding the probation officer, Judge Brubaker recalled that $4,000 was budgeted last year and $3,600 the year before for such a man. None was found.

"For the job we need done here, we'll have to pay an annual bill of about $6,000," the judge declared. This would include mileage and sundry expenses.

A PERSON trained in psychology or sociology, capable of digging out the roots of the juvenile's problems, is needed. The officer (probably a man) would have police powers regarding juveniles and their parents, and would have court powers to look into the family situation.

Especially noteworthy would be the part he could play in seeing if the parents were at fault. Much of this Judge Brubaker does now, but there's room for much, much more.

A psychiatric center would cost even more money but the expense could be shared, Judge Brubaker laid strong emphasis on the importance of curing young offenders' emotional problems before they become hardened criminals.

There's one more much-discussed idea which Judge Brubaker thinks is a good one. That's the so-called "youth center."

A youth center, where teenagers could get together and have a good time was run here during the 1940s and it was a failure. But Judge Brubaker feels that a center, run a

Clean-up, Paint-up and Fix-up Is Set for Apr. 26-May 10 Here

William Stoughton, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker at the regular Junior Leadership meeting in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

He spoke on the nation-wide Junior Chamber of Commerce "Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up" campaign which is scheduled to open here April 26 and close May 10.

He listed aims of the campaign as: (1) prevention of slums and redevelopment of blighted areas, (2) preventing fires, (3) to promoting safety practices, and (4) maintaining an increase in property values.

Stoughton pointed out that the "Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up" campaign, which involves a large number of youth and adults, also little differently, would be a success.

First, he said, the idea would have to come from the young people. If they didn't do the planning and the groundwork, they wouldn't be interested.

Second, he said, the place could not be chaperoned, as it was before, by parents working in shifts.

"TOO MUCH supervision is as bad as too little," the Judge Brubaker explained. "A paid manager would be needed anyway," he observed, suggesting, "the right person in that job could do all the supervising necessary."

Student feeling in favor of such a center runs strong, the Judge said.

(Much favorable opinion was expressed in a student opinion poll conducted by high school student Peggy Bandy in her "By-Lines" column in the Record-Herald two weeks ago.)

Judge Brubaker said he is at work now, trying to bring some of this feeling to the front and trying to put it to work.

"We ought to have something as soon as next fall," he said, hopefully.

"All these ideas mean work and money," Judge Brubaker admitted. "But," he added, "I think they all deserve consideration if we want better youngsters in Fayette County."

The Tennessee group, directed by Harry H. Harter, offered a varied program ranging from 16th Century airs through Bach to the contemporary dramatic choral music of Aaron Copland.

A free-will offering was taken during the program which opened at 4 p. m.

The choir came here from Boulevard Presbyterian Church, Columbus, and left here for Lebanon, Ky., for an appearance at the United Presbyterian Church there Monday night.

The concert here was co-sponsored by the Bloomingburg and McNair Memorial Presbyterian churches.

Each was evaluated at 20 per cent.

All told there were 49 entries in the county competition. Some of them were made jointly by two students.

The display of exhibits in the DP&L auditorium Saturday afternoon was open to the public. While the auditorium was never crowded, interested adults and some students were looking at the projects all afternoon.

Similar exhibits are being held in schools in the other counties of the district to determine the winners who will enter the competition at Monroe High School April 13.

Ex-Banker Dies In Chicago in Gangster Style

Police Say $300,000
Carried by Victim
At Time of Killing

CHICAGO (AP)—Leon Marcus, a prime figure in the Orville E. Hodge scandal, carried more than $300,000 in cash and checks when he was slain, police report.

Marcus, 61, onetime majority stockholder in the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co., was put to death in gangland fashion here Sunday night.

William Touhy, deputy chief of detectives, stated that a $300,000 check made out to Marcus was found in the victim's wallet. The officer said the check was drawn on the Society National Bank of Cleveland, was dated June 28, 1956, and was signed "J. A. Herman."

Touhy said an inventory showed that Marcus also carried $3,600 in other checks and $1,640 in cash.

The last friend to see Marcus alive, Alfred Rado, said Marcus had $8,000 in cash. That would indicate that some $6,300 in cash was missing.

"THIS WASN'T robbery," Touhy commented, pointing to the cash and jewelry found on the body.

Touhy theorized that the motive for the killing may be found in the victim's financial affairs. He said he plans to question the principals in the Hodge case in an effort to find out more about Marcus' dealings.

Marcus was seized by several men after he had left the Rado home on 51st street on the South Side. He was dragged into an automobile and whisked away.

His body, with a .45 caliber bullet wound in the back of the head, was found shortly afterward in a vacant lot six blocks away.

Marcus, his brother Hyman, 50, an attorney, and Marcus' son-in-law, Martin J. Rosene, 36, were under federal indictments charging misapplication of bank funds and making false entries in bank records. They were scheduled to face trial Sept. 23.

The Southmoor bank is where former Republican State Auditor Hodge cashed more than $800,000 in fraudulent state checks.

Hodge, former Southmoor President Edward A. Hintz and Edward A. Epping, former office manager for the high state official, are serving prison terms in connection with Hodge's theft of $2 million in state funds.

The indictments against the Marcus brothers and Rosene alleged unlawful diversion of bank money from real estate loans.

RADO, OWNER OF THE Lavine Lumber Co., told police Marcus was leaving his apartment over the lumber firm's office after Sunday dinner. Five or six men grabbed him as he was about to enter his car. Rado said the victim shouted: "Leave me alone and I'll give you anything I got."

Marcus was thrust into a dark Chevrolet, Rado related, and the auto drove off.

Meanwhile, Rado's wife Joyce, who was upstairs, called police.

Leon Marcus was named Feb. 6 along with Rado, an owner of Home Craft Construction Co., and several other firms in a $200,000 recovery suit charging "fraudulent conspiracy" in construction company loans.

The suit contended Marcus compelled Rado to turn over mortgages and property in a local housing project worth $200,000.

Knowland Opposes Barter with Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California split with the Eisenhower administration today to oppose a proposal for the barter of surplus farm commodities to Iron Curtain countries.

Knowland reported he is opposed to a provision of a pending bill, approved by President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson, which would permit the exchange with Russian satellites of food and fibers for strategic materials.

That provision is included in a bill now before the Senate which would continue and enlarge the present program for overseas disposal of surplus agricultural commodities. Present law bans trade with Iron Curtain countries.

Dulles Biographer

forced by messages instructing Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen in Moscow to make the meaning plain to the Kremlin's leaders, the President served notice on Russia that the United States would use force to prevent any such move.

Concerning the three other "brinks," Beal also wrote:

1. Eisenhower decided, returning from his 1952 Korea trip aboard the cruiser Helena, to "press for a truce; but if that failed, to fight the war to win" and to use tactical atomic weapons, blockade the China coast, and bomb China mainland targets.

2. Eisenhower and Dulles decided to intervene militarily in Indo-China "under certain conditions" but "the conditions were not met."

These conditions were, according to Beal, that Britain, Australia and New Zealand join in, and France stay in while riding itself "of colonial taint."

3. Eisenhower spurned a suggestion by then British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden to swap the off-China islands of Quemoy and Matsu for a Communist cease-fire agreement, then sent a "personal assurance" to Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa. This "personal letter" satisfied Chiang, Beal said, "that the United States would help defend Quemoy and Matsu."

Beal said "repeated and accumulated unfriendly gestures" by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser preceded Dulles' decision to withdraw a U. S. offer of help to build the high Aswan Dam on the Nile River.

Dulles withdrew the offer July 19 and Nasser responded a week later by seizing the Suez Canal.

Beal wrote that Dulles felt he needed a time, place and "grand-scale" opportunity to demonstrate to the world that even U. S. patience could be exhausted.

Saying Nasser had become "seemingly more and more pro-Communist," Beal wrote of events last July:

"Nasser was making it look as though the United States could be played for a sucker. For Dulles, a moment of Cold War climax had come.

"It was necessary to call Russia's hand in the game of economic competition.

"It was necessary to demonstrate to friendly nations that U. S. tolerance could not brook the kind of insult Nasser presented."

Red Cross Fund Campaign Falters

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Red Cross spokesman said today the organization's fund-raising picture is "the blackest since before World War II" because of drains of recent disasters.

A month-long fund raising drive through March brought in only 65 per cent of the $95 million the Red Cross hoped to raise.

Appeals have been made to Red Cross chapters to continue the drive to reach the goal.

Juvenile Problem

schools. That's somewhat commonly known.

Less known is a related fact: most of them could be in schools, if the schools were doing the right job. For example, a certain boy may have a lot of talent for carpentry, but no talent for English. Another may be very good at drawing, but no good at math. Or a girl may have an aptitude for home economics but none for history.

These people, Judge Brubaker said he felt, should be offered a school program whereby they can tap their talents and chuck the rest. The program wouldn't offer a regular diploma, but it would give good training, and it would keep the youngsters in school.

"After all," the judge observed, "it isn't necessary to have a broad liberal education to be a good commercial artist—even though it might help."

IF YOUNGSTERS find school attractive this way, they'll stay in. If they stay in, they'll keep busy and they'll keep learning. If they do that, they may grow up to be solid citizens, instead of prison inmates.

Besides the children who can't find the right program in school, there are others who aren't properly equipped. There are students with sight problems. There are others with hearing trouble.

Judge Brubaker said he appreciated all the efforts being made by the Lions Clubs and similar groups, aimed at remedying this situation. But, he observed, there is still room for more.

With these two groups disposed of, there are other students who just can't keep up the pace. These, Judge Brubaker said, "shouldn't be required to stay. Let them get jobs, and let the learners learn."

BEYOND the schools, the juvenile problem must be met at another, grimmer, juncture: the court. Sad to say, that's where a lot of it finally winds up.

Two things ought to be done there, Judge Brubaker feels, in order to help a salvage of spiritual wrecks. They are:

—Get a trained, capable, probation officer, who can deal with the youngsters once they've been in court, trying to get them back on the track.

—Create a psychiatric center (perhaps in cooperation with neighboring counties) that can help unravel emotional problems, so common in adolescence.

Regarding the probation officer, Judge Brubaker recalled that $4,000 was budgeted last year and $3,600 the year before for such a man. None was found.

"For the job we need done here, we'll have to pay an annual bill of about $6,000," the judge declared. This would include mileage and sundry expenses.

A PERSON trained in psychology or sociology, capable of digging out the roots of the juvenile's problems, is needed. The officer (probably a man) would have police powers regarding juveniles and their parents, and would have court powers to look into the family situation.

Especially noteworthy would be the part he could play in seeing if the parents were at fault. Much of this Judge Brubaker does now, but there's room for much more.

A psychiatric center would cost even more money but the expense could be shared. Judge Brubaker laid strong emphasis on the importance of curing young offenders' emotional problems before they become hardened criminals.

There's one more much-discussed idea which Judge Brubaker thinks is a good one. That's the so-called "youth center."

A youth center, where teen-agers could get together and have a good time was run here during the 1940s and it was a failure. But Judge Brubaker feels that a center, run a

Clean-up, Paint-up and Fix-up Is Set for Apr. 26-May 10 Here

William Stoughton, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker at the regular Junior Leadership meeting in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

He spoke on the nation-wide Junior Chamber of Commerce "Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up" campaign which is scheduled to open here April 26 and close May 10.

He listed aims of the campaign as: (1) prevention of slums and redevelopment of blighted areas, (2) preventing fires, (3) to promoting safety practices, and (4) maintaining an increase in property values.

Stoughton pointed out that the "Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up" campaign, which involves a large number of youth and adults, also little differently, would be a success.

First, he said, the idea would have to come from the young people. If they didn't do the planning and the groundwork, they wouldn't be interested.

Second, he said, the place could not be chaperoned, as it was before, by parents working in shifts.

"TOO MUCH supervision is as bad as too little," the Judge Brubaker explained. "A paid manager would be needed anyway," he observed, suggesting: "the right person in that job could do all the supervising necessary."

Student feeling in favor of such a center runs strong, the Judge said.

(Much favorable opinion was expressed in a student opinion poll conducted by high school student Peggy Bandy in her "By-Lines" column in the Record-Herald two weeks ago.)

Judge Brubaker said he is at work now, trying to bring some of this feeling to the front and trying to put it to work.

"We ought to have something as soon as next fall," he said, hopefully.

"All these ideas mean work and money," Judge Brubaker admitted. "But," he added, "I think they all deserve consideration if we want better youngsters in Fayette County."

Another Soybean Price Hike Unlikely

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department advised farmers today that last summer's big jump in price of soybeans is unlikely to be repeated this year.

The reason, it said, is that supplies are considerably larger. On March 1 stocks were 30 per cent larger than a year earlier.

Sirius, the dog star, is 27 times as bright as the sun.

73 Discharges Recorded Here During March

Seventy-three service discharges were recorded at the Fayette County recorder's office during March—as compared with a normal monthly average of between 5 and 10.

There was a reason—the registration for the Korean War bonus required submission of original separation papers, and veterans were advised to record discharges if this precaution had not already been taken.

Mrs. Eloise Johnson, recorder, pointed out that there is no charge for this service, nor for making certified copies of separation papers.

Creative Thinking Course Opens Here

A four-day course in "Creative Thinking," opened Monday morning at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Its purpose is to train leaders in business and industry, who will hold group meetings to help solve some of their problems and develop new ideas through "creative thinking." Much of the course, it was said, applies to management and a selling.

The course is being conducted the first four days of this week by Robert Smith of Columbus. Arrangements to hold it here were made with the Distributive Education Services of the state Department of Education.

The cost is $5 per "student." The 12 who signed up and were at the first session were A. E. Weatherly, Phil Grover, John Breiner, William Williams, Ray Jennings, Tom Murray, Omar (Jim) Schwartz, Art Thompson, Frank Alexander, James Hanawalt, Eli Craig and Thurl Campbell.
